Assassinated in front of his family, Christmas 1975, due to collaborations between Soviet KGB operatives and the Marxist-terrorist IPS group. The same IPS group which helped elect Bill Clinton, which Bill Clinton's close friend and advisor Derek Shearer then held membership in, which Hillary Clinton later funded and praised, and from which Bill Clinton chose numerous appointees.

PREFACE

I first learned of the Institute for Policy Studies (IPS) while serving as a U.S. Naval officer and pilot. Upon reporting for duty as a Top Secret Control Officer at an overseas U.S. Naval Air Station, I was there briefed on IPS's violent collaborations with the Soviet KGB and was warned to take precautionary measures while fulfilling my duties.

After returning to the United States and changing careers, I continued to keep ties with the Intelligence community and kept tabs on IPS. These contacts allowed me to publish exposes' through another source in April 1992 regarding IPS's influence over several church organizations. In August 1992 I delivered copies of my published findings to the FBI, and thought my role in exposing IPS was complete. However, in September 1992 evidence of the Clinton's involvement with IPS was discovered, and I determined to write SECRET.

I produced the first editions of SECRET under the pseudonym of Victor T. Saunders in order to guarantee myself time to freely circulate initial copies of the booklet. Having distributed some thirty-five thousand copies of SECRET and spoken to millions worldwide over AM, FM and Shortwave radio, I now utilize my full legal name, David Mark Price.

SECRET is now in circulation not only throughout the United States but in Argentina, the Bahamas, Canada, Costa Rica, England, Fiji, France, Germany, Holland, Israel, Japan, Mexico, the Netherlands, Panama, Portugal, Scotland, Spain, Switzerland, Thailand, Venezuela and the West Indies. Copies have also been ordered by the Defense or Intelligence Departments of the Mexican, French and Canadian governments.

Sunset Research Group, which I direct, is dedicated to open inquiry in pursuit of objective truth. It is our opinion that SECRET cites factual sources which firmly and fairly prove Mr. and Mrs. Clinton's affiliations with the Marxist-terrorist network, and with related anti-American subversives. Still, there no doubt will be those who dismiss our evidences with cries of "McCarthyism!" To those we offer the following quotation:

Sen. Joseph McCarthy was charged with lacking elementary ethics and incriminating individuals on the basis of their associations on often trumped-up charges that appealed more to emotion than to reason. McCarthy's charges succeeded in precipitating an hysteria that tended to see all liberal and socialist opinion as 'un-American and communist.' What McCarthy left in his wake were an overreaction and a residual reluctance to investigate or even discuss the problem of subversion and disloyalty (Dr. S. Steven Powell, Covert Cadre--Inside the Institute for Policy Studies, p. 359).

Conversely, the reader will find the tone of SECRET to be profoundly ethical--documenting every claim--and that we are given to factual reason delivered in tones of understatement, rather than to unproven accusations and emotional hysteria. Likewise, we here render the Clintons the deferment they are due, never judging their motives nor loyalty; only their actions.

SECRET required thousands of hours of research, composition and editing to prepare. It is our opinion that the hundreds of quotations, footnotes, bibliography sources and references we cite (including photocopied FBI documents and Communist Party materials) contain valuable evidences which are worthy of your consideration. So sure are we of our research, and so honorable are our intentions, that we continue to offer a $1,000.00 reward and a letter of retraction and apology to the first person able to prove any quotation in this booklet to be materially false.

The Institute for Policy Studies: Washington's Marxist Think Tank

As communism continues to dissolve around the globe and Marxist theorists increasingly become outcasts in the political and economic communities, the intrigues Marxists have long been involved in are finally beginning to surface. One place where such intrigues are now surfacing is at the Institute for Policy Studies (IPS) in Washington, D.C.

Rush Limbaugh warned of Clinton's links to IPS man Derek Shearer prior to the 1992 election.

IPS is a violence-prone group of extremists intent on changing America into a Marxist-socialist society by, "...Dismantling the capitalist economic order and reshaping public-sector institutions in ways that give the Left political power thus far denied by the electoral process."¹ IPS has firm ties to anti-American terrorists and militant Marxists worldwide; and IPS has firm ties to Bill and Hillary Clinton also. Accordingly, concern over the Clinton's ties to IPS personnel were voiced by Rush Limbaugh,² Donald McAlvany,³ Daniel Wattenberg⁴ and William F. Buckley, Jr.⁵ prior to the 1992 election--and for good reason--the FBI reveals:

[IPS] is described as a Washington-based 'Think-Factory' which helped train extremists who incite violence in the United States . . . and whose educational research serves as a cover for intrigue and political agitation.⁶

Individuals who have been identified as CP [Communist Party] members . . . have participated in IPS functions. IPS representatives have also affiliated with known communists.⁷

Karl Hess is publicly described as a researcher for the IPS. . . . Hess has stated that he sees no alternative but to use violent tactics to destroy the United States Government.⁸

IPS apparently exercises considerable influence in the New Left movement and may have as its goal the destruction of the U.S. Government. . . .⁹

Bill and Hillary Clinton Linked to IPS.

Leaders at IPS have long yearned to, ". . . Move the Democratic party's debate internally to the left by creating an invisible [IPS] presence in the party."¹⁰

Just prior to his election Bill Clinton appointed IPS veteran Derek Shearer as his top economic advisor, prompting the Washington Post to predict that Shearer could become chairman of Clinton's Council of Economic Advisors.¹¹ Clinton's appointment of Shearer was no fluke, for as Rush Limbaugh observed, "Shearer, who is about as leftist as they come, is one of Clinton's closest--and cleverest--friends." And Shearer's sister, Brooke, is Hillary's traveling companion.¹²

As this booklet shall document, Clinton's close friend Derek Shearer has not only been a member of the subversive IPS, but is also a prolific advocate of Marxist socialism and is ardent in his open praises for life under communism. Shearer has also long proposed that America's free enterprise system be dismantled and that businesses be controlled by socialistic government planners instead. Additionally, on numerous occasions Shearer has elucidated his goal to so influence the Democratic Party that a man sharing his socialist views could be elected! Indeed, IPS was heavily involved in the Clinton campaign. As Dr. Charles A. Provan reveals:

The Institute for Policy Studies (IPS) supported Bill Clinton during the last presidential election . . . because Clinton shared their type of cultural outlook¹³

IPS's campaign activism and IPS man Shearer are not the only links Bill and Hillary have to IPS. This booklet shall thoroughly chronicle IPS's bloody intrigues, and shall illuminate the Clinton's elaborate network of affiliation with IPS, IPS members, and IPS supporters--many of whom are now being ushered into the White House!

FBI Warns of IPS Infiltrating U.S. Government With Subversives

Such revelations are doubly disturbing in view of Secret FBI reports which reveal IPS has attempted to infiltrate U.S. government agencies with "radicals" and even "communists" evidently intent on enacting anti-American, pro-Marxist policies:

This gives [IPS] activists access to Government secrets as well as the opportunity to influence opinions and political developments. . . . Obviously the institute is in a position to infiltrate persons into the Government agencies who are indoctrinated in revolutionary ideology. . . . They constitute the new United Front with penetration in depth by communists. . . . In effect . . . [IPS Director Arthur Waskow's] outline is an entire framework of a shadow government with shadow institutions.¹⁴

. . . An IPS working paper captioned 'Proposal for a Five-Year Plan for Radical Reconstruction' . . . is said to delineate . . . the radicalization of U.S. society through the creation of counterstructures. . . . It was further denoted. . . . "These individuals [are instructed that they] must work from within the establishment but, while doing so, not lose sight of their basic radical beliefs."¹⁵

One of IPS's most active 'Fellows' is Dr. Arthur I. Waskow. This radical anti-war leader was one of the IPS-supported revolutionaries that met last June in Milwaukee to plan the coming April-May demonstrations designed to disrupt Washington. Since its inception, IPS has tried to disarm the United States and fought military defense. . . . The 'Think Tank' also trained bright young college graduates to take positions on Congressional staffs and Government agencies to push IPS's radical policies. . . . [Justice Department, IRS, & Congressional] files show that the IPS channeled its funds and talents in building the anti-war movement and helping leaders of some of the most violent demonstrations and protests since 1963.¹⁶

Indeed, this same Arthur Waskow of IPS's Board of Trustees was specifically cited in a Secret FBI study headlined "VIOLENCE." Waskow was there quoted advocating, "creative disorder" including, "looting and burning" in the U.S. while advocating sending aid to North Vietnam during that war.¹⁷ It is this group which helped elect Bill Clinton, and from which Mr. Clinton is now drawing talent from to staff his administration with.

Famed Communist Party Member Funded IPS Start Up

IPS's formation in 1963 was primarily funded by the Samuel Rubin Foundation, which has given IPS millions of dollars through the years.¹⁸ Rubin, who was a member of the elite Comintern of the Communist Party founded by Lenin, helped foment Russia's peasants into revolt and then abandoned his comrades during the Bolshevik revolution in order to live the good life in America.¹⁹

Quite the hypocrite, Rubin not only fled his own successful revolution, but upon arriving in America he also violated the Marxist image of the ideal Proletariat by exhibiting the same love for money that he had earlier condemned Bourgeois capitalists of. Being somewhat of a thief too, Rubin expropriated the famed "White Russian" (non-communist) Faberge family's trade name upon arriving in the U.S., and with his ill-gotten monies became rich in the cosmetics trade; using his expropriated riches to spread communism in the West. The Faberges, who also fled to the U.S., were sickened by Rubin's use of their name in support of communism.²⁰ Stated A.C. Faberge:

My family took part in the fight against the Bolshevik takeover. My father Alexander Faberge participated in the so-called officer's revolt of Moscow in the early days of the revolution, while two of Agathon Faberge's sons fought with Yudenich's White Army.²¹

The Faberges took Rubin to court and won a settlement, but not before famed American billionaire Armand Hammer helped Rubin make the fortune which helped launch IPS.²² Hammer, whose father was a personal friend of Lenin and a Communist Party member,²³ was himself suspected by the CIA, FBI, State Department and National Security Council of being a secret Soviet agent.²⁴

After the downfall of the USSR and the opening of KGB files, the Soviet publication Izvestia confirmed that Rubin's cohort, Armand Hammer, was the bag man who carried cash from Lenin to the U.S. to fund the start up of the U.S. Communist Party!²⁵ Interestingly, Vice-President Al Gore has links to this same Armand Hammer who helped launch IPS and the U.S. Communist Party.

...Al Gore Jr. has collected nearly half-a-million bucks in royalties on a zinc mine.... The Gore benefactor...was...Lenin's personal bag man to the U.S. Communist Party, Dr. Armand Hammer.²⁶

The farm, originally purchased by Oxy, was sold to the Gores at well below market prices. Then Hammer arranged for Occidental to pay the Gores annual royalties of $227 per acre, while adjacent farms got $30 per acre. Al Jr. then 'bought' the property from his father, who subsequently went on Hammer's Board of Directors. The elder Gore was given stock options by Hammer worthy of another half-million. The senior Gore explains this cozy deal with America's most influential Red as the result of their 'mutual interest in angus cattle.'"

Samuel Rubin's daughter, Cora, has long played an important role at IPS, and her husband Peter has served as IPS's Chairman. While leading IPS, Cora made a number of wartime trips to North Vietnam, evidently aiding the enemy there.²⁷ She and Peter have also apparently been observed by the FBI rendezvousing with and transporting known Soviet espionage agents.²⁸

Secret FBI & CIA Files on IPS's Communist Activities & Terrorism

The FBI reports that IPS personnel are linked to the "pro-communist and anti-U.S." SDS group, the "Weathermen" terrorist group which was involved in "strategic sabotage," and the "Progressive Labor Party [which] was founded . . . by individuals expelled from the Communist Party USA, for following the Chinese Communist line."²⁹ The FBI has compiled some 2705 pages of information which document how IPS is a violent and subversive organization. Under the Freedom of Information Act, the author obtained 1743 pages of that documentation. Reasons cited by the FBI for withholding the remaining 962 pages included:

(1) Withholding as, "specifically authorized . . . by an Executive [Presidential] order to be kept secret in the interest of national defense. . . ."

(2) The National Security Act of 1947, The CIA Act of 1949, the current discretion of the FBI;

(3) Because the, "Records or information [were] compiled for law enforcement purposes. . . . [and] could reasonably be expected to disclose the identity of a confidential source. . . ." ³⁰

Of the 1743 pages received, many passages were inked out by the censor's pen (see p. 10 of SECRET for examples). Still, it was obvious that IPS and IPS personnel are clearly acknowledged to be violent elements which could pose a serious dangers to the people and government of the U.S.

Hillary funded and praised the pro-Marxist IPS which the FBI has investigated for murders, espionage, terror bombings and kidnapping. Bill has considered or appointed at least 21 persons associated with IPS to high government posts--and an IPS man who advocates Marxism is Bill's closest friend and advisor.

CIA Allows "No Discretion" on Secret IPS Files. The CIA's response for information on IPS was even sterner than the FBI's; indicating that such not only, ". . . Must be withheld by an Executive order to be kept secret in the interest of national defense. . . ." but that the information is of such a nature that it, "Requires that the matters be withheld from the public in such a manner as to leave no discretion on on the matter. . . ." ³¹ Clearly, the most incriminating information on IPS remains classified. This should be kept in mind when the the following chronology of known IPS abuses are reviewed.

IPS Aided Marxist Dictators

Although much of the money to start IPS came from Comrade Rubin and has been administered by his daughter Cora, IPS was founded by Richard J. Barnet and Marcus Raskin. ³² Raskin has utilized IPS resources to help Soviet KGB functionaries assassinate important Americans and Britons, while Barnet used his IPS status to personally assist communist leaders from Central America to Asia. Assisting both Barnet and Raskin in these deeds was Castro's personal friend, IPS man Saul Landau.

IPS Leader Barnet Aided Nicaraguan and North Vietnamese Dictators. During the Vietnam war Barnet traveled to North Vietnam to greet top communist leaders, and there went on record as a supporter of communism who despised the U.S. ³³ The FBI reveals:

BARNET was reported by the North Vietnamese to have said at a rally in Hanoi that the Vietnamese are fighting 'against the same aggressors that we will continue to fight in our country.' ³⁴

Later, at the behest of Marxist dictator Daniel Ortega, Barnet traveled to Nicaragua in 1983, 1984, and 1985 to help Ortega set up his new Sandinista regime. While there, Barnet stayed at the home of Secret Police Chief (and later Interior Minister) Tomas Borge. Borge reportedly:

. . . Works hand in glove with the Cuban DGI intelligence and is responsible for the execution of hundreds of political prisoners, [and] has personally received IPS fellows, such as Richard Barnet . . . in his home in Managua. ³⁵

Additionally, Borge directed the extermination of thousands of Miskito Indian men, women and children who opposed the advance of communism in their native Nicaragua. ³⁶ IPS co-founder Barnet was not in Nicaragua as a tourist, but was there as an instructor to Nicaragua's new ruling communists:

[IPS leaders] Borosage and Landau reported that they [including Barnet] had gone there to 'make sure that the eight ministries [of the Sandinistas] had their projects in order' so that European support, which IPS was also organizing, would continue 'to keep Nicaragua from being isolated politically and economically.' When . . . Ortega came to New York in November 1985 and in July 1986 . . . he paid a personal visit to . . . [IPS leaders] Cora and Peter Weiss. . . . ³⁷

IPS cofounder Richard Barnet traveled to Nicaragua three times to help Marxist dictator Daniel Ortega set up his new communist regime.

IPS Leader Saul Landau Aided Fidel Castro. Landau, who was just quoted bragging that he and Barnet were important advocates for Nicaragua's Marxist elites, has an interesting rap-sheet himself. Born to parents who were both Communist Party members,³⁸ Landau traveled to Cuba to volunteer to serve in Castro's Venceremos Brigade (VB) in the 1960s. According to the FBI, the VB was formed by the Cuban DGI under the direction of the Soviet KGB to help Castro recruit:

Individuals . . . who someday would provide the Cuban government with access to political, economic and military intelligence.³⁹

While in Cuba, Landau and Castro became close personal friends. Predictably, Landau claims, "Cuba is the first purposeful society that we have had in the Western Hemisphere for many years...."⁴⁰ Likewise, in 1978 Landau was a featured speaker at the World Communist Youth Festival in Havana where he shared the rostrum with fellow IPS man, CIA-turncoat, and KGB-snitch Philip Agee.⁴¹

When confirmed Marxist agent (and IPS man) Orlando Letelier was killed by a car bomb while on a secret Cuban spy mission, his trusted friend Landau stated he personally shredded the dead spy's files to, ". . . Ensure that materials that could compromise the Chilean resistance . . . would not fall into the hands of the FBI."⁴² When the FBI converged on Letelier's home, they were greeted at the door by Senator Kennedy's aide Mark Schneider.⁴³

Landau spoke at the World Communist Youth Festival, sharing the rostrum with a traitor who became a KGB agent.

Landau has produced a number of procommunist propagand films--which are usually shot on location in Marxist countries with the help of regional tyrants. One such film included the actual torture-induced "confession" of an anti-communist who was later executed.⁴⁴ Landau affirms:

. . . The time has come to dedicate myself to narrower pursuits, namely, making propagand for American Socialism. . . . We cannot any longer just help out third world . . . revolutions, although obviously we shouldn't turn our backs on them, but get down to the more difficult job of bringing the message home.⁴⁵

IPS Leader Marcus Raskin Helped the KGB Assassinate Our Agents. Co-founding IPS with Barnet was Marcus Raskin. Raskin's specialty appears to be anti-American espionage. Raskin participated in such conspiracies by providing IPS resources and personnel to help start up CounterSpy magazine which ferreted out and published the names of U.S. agents overseas. Raskin committed these deeds in concert with ex-CIA renegade Philip Agee,⁴⁶ who turned traitor against the U.S. and fled to Cuba to embrace communism.⁴⁷ New evidence reveals:

CIA defector Philip Agee . . . has been revealed as a paid agent of the Cuban Intelligence Service and the KGB. . . .⁴⁸

Days after Richard Welch (CIA Station Chief in Greece) was exposed in CounterSpy, he was shot to death by communist terrorists in front of his wife while returning from a Christmas party. IPS expressed little regret that their actions had helped kill a good American. In fact, at least one IPS man exulted over the slaying, indicating Welch got what he deserved.⁴⁹ CIA Director William Colby personally blamed the collaborators for Welch's

After his defection, Agee systematically identified covert U.S. intelligence operatives worldwide, drawing upon the information with which he had been trusted while an agency operations officer. His betrayal cost the United States uncountable millions of dollars and endangered the lives of persons. . . . His 'naming names' tactic had a tragic consequence in 1975. . . . Two days before Christmas, terrorists ambushed and killed Welch. In June 1975 Agee had written . . . 'Eventually, CIA people can be neutralized faster than Mr. Colby can hire them for mischief abroad'" (Reed Irvine and Joseph C. murder,⁵⁰ but although culpable, there evidently was not enough hard evidence to prosecute them.

Welch was not the only American to suffer violence due to IPS's collaborations. Two days after an agent in Jamaica was similarly fingered, the agent's home was machine gunned. When thirteen U.S. agents in Nicaragua were compromised, their families received death threats and all had to be evacuated;⁵¹ and naming two British agents in Poland resulted in their prompt murder too.

After Agee's spree with CounterSpy was suspected of causing the murder of the two British agents, Britain issued deportation orders on him. At his ensuing appeal, IPS man Morton Halperin (appointed one of Clinton's Assistant Secretaries of Defense) flew to England to represent Agee. When Agee was ordered deported anyway, IPS helped resettle him in Holland. Additionally, IPS continued to defend Agee's activities and assigned additional IPS personnel to serve on the advisory board and as production manager of CounterSpy.⁵²

AP/Wide World Photos

Richard Welch was assassinated after a KGB agent working with IPS exposed him. CIA Director Colby (left) personally blamed IPS collaborators for Welch's murder.

Various governments did not take kindly to such episodes, so at least one evidently started killing IPS members in retaliation. In September 1976 a car bomb (set by Chilean Intelligence?) blew up near IPS headquarters, killing IPS's Counter-Intelligence leader Orlando Letelier and IPS staff member Roni Moffitt. Charred documents from Letelier's briefcase confirmed that he was a paid agent of the Cuban Intelligence Agency (DGI) and a member of the Chilean Socialist party.⁵³

Clinton appointed Morton Halperin--IPS man and apologist for KGB agent Agee--to the position of Assistant Secretary of Defense.

After Letelier was killed on a Cuban spy mission, IPS replaced him with Tariq Ali, a leader of the Trotskyite Fourth Internationale of the Communist Party.

IPS replaced Letelier with Tariq Ali, a leader of the Trotskyite Fourth Internationale of the Communist Party, who due to his links with terrorism is even now barred from entering the U.S. and seven other countries.⁵⁴ Agee's IPS comrade Raskin appears to be a true Marxist. In one IPS publication he wrote:

. . . Such positive social philosophies as Marxism are beginning to have a larger following. . . . We are all Marxists--either by using that analysis or by playing out, as actors, the tragic role Marx foresaw.⁵⁵

IPS Hosted Criminals & Terrorists

As the following pages will continue to detail, members or patrons of Clinton advisor Derek Shearer's IPS have been implicated in a number of politically motivated criminal activities; including conspiracy to kidnap the U.S. Secretary of State, treason, bombings, espionage, and murder.

Kidnapping, Murder, Bombings, Bank Robbery, Arson. IPS personnel have firm links to a number of global terrorist groups. IPS men Joe Stork, Eqbal Ahmad and Fred Halliday for instance, are firmly placed with the Middle East Research and Information Project (MERIP) which supports Arafat's PLO; and MERIP has ties to the terrorist group which murdered the eleven Israeli athletes at the Munich Olympics.⁵⁶

Of the above trio, Ahmad appears to be the most notorious. He has the ignominious distinction of being indicted for conspiring to criminally kidnap the U.S. Secretary of State and planning to blow up U.S. Federal buildings.⁵⁷ IPS is replete with such individuals—one Secret FBI Memorandum reveals:

Individuals suspected of involvement in the bombing of the Information Office of the Rhodesian Embassy and Portuguese Embassy in Washington, D.C., on 8/29/70 and the attempted bombing of the Portuguese Embassy Annex on 8/30/70 have closely associated with IPS. Two current Bureau fugitives, [deleted] who are New Left activists wanted for participation in a bank robbery and a murder on 9/23/70, had IPS contacts [deleted]. A Weatherman fugitive, [deleted] was reported to have visited the offices of IPS on 12/8/70. . . .⁵⁸

Treason, Violent Revolution and More Communist Espionage. One Confidential FBI investigation of IPS was headlined:

This investigation is based upon information which indicates that captioned organization is engaged in activities which could involve violations of Title 18, U.S.C. 2387 [Sedition], 793 [Espionage], 2101 [Antiriot Laws], and Title 50, U.S.C. 781-798 [Internal Security Act of 1950 and the Communist Control Act of 1954].⁵⁹

Another Secret FBI document reports that IPS man Karl Hess, "Sees no alternative but to use violent tactics to destroy the United States Government."⁶⁰ That same report quoted Arthur I. Waskow (of IPS's Board of Directors) stating:

Revolution must be planned, organized and then pulled off . . . through methods that put lives on the line.⁶¹

Waskow was specifically cited in another Secret FBI study under the headline of "VIOLENCE" where he was quoted advocating, "creative disorder" including, "looting and burning" in the

The FBI reveals IPS even mailed out agitational briefing cards to prospective revolutionaries which included IPS's phone number, to be called, ". . . In a riot or rebellion. . ." if revolutionaries were in need of support, food, shelter, legal aid, or other assistance.⁶³ And subversive underground publications such as COMBAT (which is dedicated to the overthrow of the U.S.) praise IPS and have disclosed previously unknown facts about IPS's role in the guerrilla underground.⁶⁴ No wonder the FBI recorded:

CIA has made the observation that IPS potentially presents an excellent source of information for foreign intelligence services. . . .⁶⁵

Indeed, other FBI files reveal IPS might have even channeled coded messages for communist insurgents, both here and abroad:

New York [FBI office] is requested to advise if they have encountered similar incidents regarding coded messages being used by the Communist Party, USA. . . . Also perhaps New York, through some of its espionage sources, might be able to advise if IPS has come to their attention as a cover for espionage activities. New Haven [FBI] is requested to conduct appropriate . . . investigation . . . to determine any subversive activities. WFO [Washington Field Office of FBI] is continuing the investigation of IPS [name deleted] for possible connections with hostile foreign powers.⁶⁶

IPS officials also reportedly are part of a message network to . . . North Vietnam. . . .⁶⁷

Covert photographs reveal that known Soviet spies such as KGB Colonel Viktor Taltz (later deported) and other East Bloc functionaries regularly visited IPS headquarters even at the height of the Cold War. And Dr. Stephen Powell reports that KGB officer Valery Lekarev even tried to recruit him at IPS, while Powell was there investigating IPS's Marxism.⁶⁸ Likewise, Alger Hiss, once a prominent member of the State Department who was imprisoned for perjury after being tried as a Soviet spy, was honorably introduced at IPS in 1984 as a, "distinguished scholar of the New Deal."⁶⁹

Not surprisingly, Harvard Historian James L. Tyson has actually traced control of IPS to the Communist Party Central Committee in Moscow, through Cuba's DGI Intelligence service, the Soviet KGB, and Moscow's Communist Party Central Committee.⁷⁰

Most readers are astonished to learn that a group such as IPS not only exists, but has been allowed to run amok; but such are the times we live in. As President Reagan explained:

Remember there was once a Congress . . . which . . . would investigate even one of [their] own members if it was believed that the person had communist involvement or communist leanings. Well, they've done away with those committees. That shows . . . what the Soviets were able to do in this country with making it unfashionable to be anti-communist.⁷¹

IPS Leaders Sponsor Marxist Art

For years communist leaders have realized the propagandist art can yield upon a targeted culture. Chairman Mao Tse-tung himself wrote about this propagandist factor in his Yenan lectures. He rightly concluded that a dedicated Marxist artist in a targeted country is worth more than a thousand soldiers in that country's borders. Mao explained that such cultural saboteurs were not only to use their mediums to propagandize their audiences that communism was good, but to paint the existing orders of targeted countries as being inherently evil.

IPS is deeply involved in this form of cultural warfare. James F. Cooper reports, "The primary goal of IPS [art] is to indoctrinate Americans with Marxist dogma and disinformation."⁷² For example, IPS funded the infamous Committed to Print exhibit in New York City. That event, which was almost exclusively funded by IPS Chairman Peter Weiss and his wife Cora, was dedicated to fabricating stories of "genocidal atrocities" America commits against underprivileged minorities, and to exploiting the old communist class warfare struggle between the Bourgeoisie (middle and upper class "enemies") and the Proletariat (lower class "workers").

Typical of the "art" there foisted upon the public was a large painting of a vampire-fanged Ronald Reagan capturing black children and sucking their blood out and eating them alive.⁷³

Typical of IPS sponsored "art" was a large painting of a vampire-fanged Ronald Reagan capturing black children and sucking their blood out before eating them alive.

After savaging American icons at Committed to Print, other paintings built up the icons of communism, just as Chairman Mao had instructed followers to do in his Yenan lectures. These included huge, jingoistic renditions of Mao and Che' Guevara depicted as smiling, friendly, handsome fellows, waving to passersby.

Dr. Powell confirms: "The Institute for Policy Studies is the preeminent intellectual center for Marxism today in this country."⁷⁴ Powell continues:

I read all of the literature that the Institute published, and I attended many of its meetings. I learned what their whole agenda was all about, and it was interesting to know that their agenda parallels the seven major objectives of the Soviet Union, the long standing objectives of the Soviets--active measures and propaganda efforts. . . . I did not arrive at this in any sort of random fashion. The fact is that various sources, from academic sources to intelligence committees, the State Department, House and Senate hearings on Soviet active measures and propaganda, usually include [these seven Soviet Objectives] in their introduction. . . .⁷⁵

RICHARD BARNET has been identified in the Washington Post newspaper, November 19, 1969, page C-5, as having been present in Hanoi, North Vietnam (at the time of the November 15th Peace demonstration in Washington, D.C.) BARNET was reported by the North Vietnamese to have aided at a rally in Hanoi that the Vietnamese are fighting "against the same aggressor that we will continue to fight in our country."

Letter to WFO Re: INSTITUTE OF POLICY STUDIES 100-46784

NOTE: The IPS is ostensibly a private group of U.S. scholars on foreign policy matters. Its purpose is to orient U.S. scholars on foreign policy matters. It is reportedly financed by private individuals and universities. CIA has made the observation that IPS potentially presents an excellent source of information for foreign intelligence services concerning U.S. foreign policy developments.

Memorandum to Mr. C. D. Brennan Re: Institute for Policy Studies (IPS) 1520 New Hampshire Avenue, N. W. Washington, D. C. 100-46784

Information received from [redacted] indicates that portions of a classified U.S. Department of Defense study of U.S. involvement in Vietnam, is very friendly with persons associated with IPS. Additionally, it has been reported that IPS is well along the way to having a book published on the Vietnam study documents.

[redacted] an organizer of recent demonstrations in Washington, D. C. that IPS had donated $1,000 to him. IPS officials also reportedly are part of a message network to Paris and North Vietnam according to statements made by [redacted]

OBSERVATIONS:

IPS apparently exercises considerable influence in the New Left movement and may have as its goal the destruction of the U.S. Government, as presently constituted, by other than lawful means.

TO: DIRECTOR, FBI FROM: SAC, WFO (100-46784) SUBJECT: INSTITUTE FOR POLICY STUDIES 1520 NEW HAMPSHIRE AVENUE, N. W. WASHINGTON, D. C. SM - MISC (OO: WFO)

All persons named as officers or leaders of the Institute for Policy Studies, mentioned herein, are being investigated to determine their informant potential or for inclusion on the Security Index. 8/10/70

ReWFO report of SA [redacted] dated 3/19/70.

The Institute for Policy Studies (IPS) has been characterized in an article in the Washington, D. C. (WDC) weekly newspaper, "The Examiner," dated 9/24/67, page 22, by EDITH KERMIT ROOSEVELT. The article states in part that the IPS is a Washington based "Think Factory" which helped train extremists whose educational research serves as a cover for intrigue and political agitation. Through its conferences and seminars, the IPS exerts a continuing influence on the ideology and tactics of the New Left.

"The Washington Daily News," dated 8/5/70, WDC, contained an article which states in part: "The Illinois Investigation Commission, noting the convicted $100,000 in California."

SECRET

The article goes on to say that money contributed to the Institute is helping shape much of the strategy for the forthcoming "peace party." The ground work for this so-called "peace party" was laid out by advocates of civil rights, peace and communism in a five-day meeting in Chicago. The Convention was called by the National Conference for the New Politics, the latest in newly formed organizations with deceptive titles. They constitute the new United Front with penetration in depth by communists.

Regarding local political concerns a suggestion of ARTHUR WASSON, is the creation of community institutions, such as citizens groups to police the police, schools specifically controlled by the students, and law firms that will cater to those in trouble under such an approach. In effect, part of his outline is an entire framework of a shadow government with shadow institutions.

New York is requested to advise if they have encountered similar incidents regarding coded messages being used by the Communist Party, USA (CP, USA) for dissemination of information; also perhaps New York, through some of its espionage sources, might be able to advise if IPS has come to their attention as a cover for espionage activities.

New Haven is requested to conduct appropriate background investigation in accordance with [redacted] to determine any subversive activities.

WFO is continuing the investigation of IPS [redacted] for possible connections with hostile foreign powers.

The IPS has been characterized in part in the WDC weekly newspaper, "The Examiner," dated 9/24/67, page 22, by EDITH KERMIT ROOSEVELT, as follows:

Through its conferences and seminars, the IPS exerts a continuing influence on the ideology and tactics of the New Left."

system, which includes criticism of educational, federal, state, and local governing structures. The IPS courses are focused on the feasibility of replacing the present U.S. "establishment" with "Neighborhood Co-operatives" in which the residents will decide the behavior of its inhabitants, including the behavior of the government and police. The individuals within the cooperative will, as a group, own and operate all the services within their unit. IPS is financed by private funds. Individuals who have been identified as CP members or sympathizers of CP activities, have participated in IPS functions. IPS representatives have also affiliated with known communists.

NO FOREIGN DISSEM

The FBI has thousands of pages of evidence on IPS, linking that organization to violent Marxist subversives, anti-American extremists and criminal terrorists worldwide.

IPS Promotes X-RATED Pornography

Also receiving IPS support at the aforementioned Committed to Print rally were the Franklin Furnace and Kitchen Theater acting groups. These groups are famous for their outrageously degrading pornographic presentations designed to break down American culture by first enthralling audiences through stimulating their basest prurient instincts, and then injecting political propaganda into the performances when viewers are most susceptible to visual stimuli.

Franklin Furnace, for example, is famous for featuring a nude female performer smeared with chocolate (to simulate feces?) whose claim was that she was protesting, "male sexism" in America. During her act she screamed, "God is death, Forget God!" The climax of her act was the burning of American flags while cursing conservatives Pat Robertson and Pat Buchanan.

Both Kitchen Theater and Franklin Furnace groups, which receive sponsorship from IPS, have also hosted porn-starlet Annie Sprinkle for acts on their stages. In her typical performances before these live audiences, Sprinkle urinates on the stage floor and on front row viewers, openly masturbates with phallic devices while growling obscenities into the microphone, leaps naked into the audience to perform oral sex on men there--and after inserting a lighted gynecological speculum scope into her vaginal canal--assumes the birthing position and invites audience members to crowd forward to peer into her uterine cavity.⁷⁶ Smearing herself with chocolate she screamed "God is death, Forget God!" She then burned several American flags.

As shall be documented, Hillary Clinton has chosen to praise and give tens of thousands of dollars to IPS or IPS's support groups, because she believes they are, "progressive activist organizations." Is this the type of "change" the Clintons have in mind for America?

⁷⁶ Cooper, op. cit., "Marxism, Pornography."

Media Blasts IPS's Extremism

Even the usually liberal media has had few kind words for IPS. Here are some examples:

Wall Street Journal: ". . . A funnel for disinformation. . . ." ⁷⁷

Forbes: ". . . A radical Washington propaganda mill. . . ." ⁷⁸

New York Times Magazine: "Eqbal Ahmad [of IPS] . . . praised China, Cuba, and North Vietnam as 'the forces of liberation'. . . . Barnett and some of his colleagues have also praised postwar Vietnam and Cambodia under Pol Pot." ⁷⁹

Herald of Freedom: ". . . An internationally active Marxist think tank pressing for a revolutionary world and U.S. IPS's programs include . . . lines favorable to the Soviet camp and the multitude of Soviet backed terrorist 'national liberation' movements in Africa, Asia and Latin America." ⁸⁰

National Review: ". . . The perfect intellectual front for Soviet activities which would be resisted if they were to originate openly from the KGB." ⁸¹

Entire Books Written Against IPS. Many believe the bestselling fiction novel, The Spike, by Intelligence expert Robert Moss and Washington Times Editor Arnaud de Borchgrave was an attempt to warn the public about IPS. In their book, the U.S. was overthrown by the Institute for Progressive Reform--IPR. Their fictitious IPR bore strong parallels to the real life IPS--including names of individuals. So alarming was The Spike's veiled message that a Congressional committee even took testimony from one of the authors.⁸²

Additionally, a number of non-fiction writers have warned about IPS's extremism. For example, in the Forward to Dr. Rael Jean Isaac's America the Enemy--Profile of a Revolutionary Think Tank, Ernest W. Lefever, President of the Ethics and Public Policy Center, wrote:

IPS writers see contemporary America as the enemy, the brutal exploiter . . . the tyrant, both at home and abroad. Only revolutionary action, including 'guerrilla politics,' will transform America into what it should become. Among other things this means the unilateral disarmament of our military and intelligence services, the destruction of the capitalist system and particularly the multinational corporation, and the drastic reorientation of our schools and universities. No such demands are made for . . . the Soviet Union. The Kremlin, according to Richard Barnet, an IPS co-founder, has succeeded in establishing 'substantive' freedoms for its peoples. . . . IPS writers criticize U.S. foreign policy at every turn. The occasional Soviet lapses from grace . . . such as support for the genocidal Pol Pot regime in Cambodia-are laid at the door of an aggressive America.

If any doubt still exists in the readers mind as to the nature of IPS and the agenda of those associated with that group, those doubts will be expelled when the following FBI summary of IPS is considered:

In general discussion, the Institute for Policy Studies, the . . . New Left think-tank, came up. [Deleted] concurred in the feeling [that] this group played an insidious and influential role in developing strategy and tactics for all phases of subversion, seditious activity, racial conflict and revolutionary political agitation and violence. . . . The true subversive role and intent of IPS needs to be made known to the public and HCIS [House Committee on Internal Security] presents an excellent forum to accomplish this.⁸³

Bill Clinton Linked to IPS & Communists While a Hippie Protester

While good men were dying in Vietnam, Bill Clinton was aiding and abetting communist leaders and IPS organizers who were openly calling not for peace in Southeast Asia, but for a Marxist victory and for the defeat of the United States there. This damning indictment can be proven from the writings of Bill Clinton himself.

In December of 1969 Bill wrote a candid follow-up letter to Army ROTC Director Colonel Eugene Holmes, who earlier had helped Bill avoid the draft when Clinton pretended to be interested in studying for an officer's commission. Clinton confessed to Holmes:

. . . First, I want to thank you . . . for saving me from the draft. . . . In retrospect, it seems that the admiration [we felt for each other] might not have been mutual had you known a little more about me, about my political beliefs and activities. At least you might have thought me more fit for the draft than for ROTC. . . . I have written and spoken and marched against the war. One of the national organizers of the Vietnam Moratorium is a close friend of mine. After I left Arkansas last summer, I went to Washington to work in the national headquarters of the Moratorium, then to England to organize Americans for the demonstrations Oct. 15 and Nov. 16 [respectively].⁸⁴

The full version of the above letter fully details Clinton's reneging on an earlier Letter of Intent to join ROTC (which had allowed him to avoid the draft); but that is not what is important here. What is important is Clinton's confession of working for the national headquarters of the Vietnam Moratorium, and his admission that one of the national organizers for that event was a close personal friend; for that November 15, 1969 Vietnam Moratorium event was planned not only by key leaders of the USSR, North Vietnam, Viet Cong, and East Germany, but by a Communist Party USA veteran and IPS!

The Moratorium Mr. Clinton confesses to helping actuate was first conceived at a May 1969 meeting of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam (MOBE), which met in Stockholm under the auspices of the Soviet's World Peace Council, to plan antiwar activities for that autumn in Washington, D.C. In attendance there were Vietcong leader Nguyen Thi Binh, North Vietnamese leader Nguyen Minh Vy and IPS member John Wilson.⁸⁵

At a subsequent meeting of MOBE in East Berlin, Soviet leaders Aleksei Kosygin and Leonid Brezhnev both lauded MOBE activists (including IPS leaders Irving Sarnoff and Carlton Goodlett) for aiding the communist agenda and for thwarting America's efforts.⁸⁶

Bill Clinton did the bidding of top Communist Party and IPS officials and helped deploy their anti-American, militantly Marxist agenda worldwide.

Less than a month later, in July of 1969, the MOBE group was reformed into the New MOBE group. New MOBE was organized by veteran Communist Party member Sidney Peck and his friends--friends such as IPS members Cora Weiss, Arthur Waskow, Sidney Lens, Rennie Davis, and Dave Dellinger.⁸⁷ New MOBE's communist/IPS leaders soon finalized the two huge events which Bill Clinton wrote that he also helped actuate--the October 15 Moratorium and the November 15 [November 16 in England] worldwide protest march.⁸⁸

This gaggle of Marxist despots and activists evidently thought quite highly of Mr. Clinton, for Mr. Clinton not only worked at their Moratorium headquarters in Washington, but, according to a qualified witness, was dispatched to England by them to lead Moratorium activities there too.⁸⁹

North Vietnam's Prime Minister Pham Van Dong was so appreciative of the pro-communist activities of this mob (which included Bill Clinton) that he cabled them this message:

We are firmly confident that with the solidarity and courage of our two peoples, with the sympathy and support of the peace-loving peoples in the world, the struggle of the Vietnamese people and of the progressive people in the United States against U.S. aggression will end in total victory. I wish your 'Fall Offensive' a brilliant success.⁹⁰

The FBI analyzed the various radical groups comprising New MOBE (which would have included Bill Clinton) in a Secret report issued October 27, 1969:

The [New Mobilization Committee] is described in the publication entitled 'Communist Origin and Manipulation of Vietnam Week . . . a report by the Committee on Un-American Activities, House of Representatives. On page 53, the report states in part, 'Communists are playing dominant roles in . . . the Student Mobilization Committee. . . .'⁹¹

On November 15, the day of the huge Moratorium march in Washington, none other than IPS proprietor Cora Weiss was placed in charge of coordinating the logistics of the operation--walkie-talkie in hand--from the Moratorium's Mobilization command post.⁹²

Simultaneously, IPS co-founder Richard Barnet flew to Hanoi to sit at the side of North Vietnam's Premier Van Dong [previously quoted praising New MOBE radicals] where Barnet and communist leaders there held, ". . . A week of intensive discussions. . . ." on how to best exploit the American public;⁹³ and where Barnet spouted to the cheering Red masses, ". . . That the Vietnamese are fighting 'against the same aggressors that we will continue to fight in our country.'" ⁹⁴

The communist government in North Vietnam later confessed that it, ". . . could not have won the war . . ." without the help of such media-oriented activism in the U.S.⁹⁵ Indeed, upon jetting to England to serve (under the aegis of the Soviet's World Peace Council) as an organizer for that country's November 16 portion of the worldwide Moratorium, Moratorium organizers such as Bill Clinton were saluted by Hoang Minh Giam, North Vietnam's Minister of Culture, who gushed:

The Vietnamese warmly acclaim and support with all their strength the struggle engaged' by opponents of the war.⁹⁶

Considering the high degree and depth of input and approval which IPS leaders and world-famous communist dictators gave MOBE, there is no way Bill Clinton can continue to claim that he was just an ignorant protester. For Bill Clinton was aware enough and involved enough in MOBE for MOBE's leaders to trust him with an overseas mission to England on the day of the big march--just like Richard Barnet was trusted on that day with a special assignment to North Vietnam!

Bill Clinton served as an international leader in a pro-communist, anti-American activist group which was organized by IPS and which sought the counsel of, and was applauded by, the leaders of the Viet Cong, North Vietnam, East Germany and the USSR.

Indeed, with the heads of the Soviet Union, East Germany and North Vietnam attending MOBE's meetings and cabling salutary messages to MOBE organizers, such as Bill Clinton, Clinton can no longer be allowed to masquerade as just having been a stupid, dope smoking, flea bitten hippy back then. Now, he must be rightly recategorized for what he was--a devoted communist collaborator!

After learning these facts, Colonel Eugene Holmes later bemoaned his decision to help Bill Clinton avoid the draft by offering him an ROTC scholarship. Colonel Holmes records:

When I consider the calibre, the bravery, and the patriotism of the fine young soldiers whose deaths I have witnessed, and others whose funerals I have attended. . . . When I reflect on not only the willingness but eagerness that so many of them displayed in their earnest desire to defend and serve their country, it is untenable and incomprehensible to me that a man who was not merely unwilling to serve his country, but actually protested against its military, should ever be in the position of Commander-in Chief of our armed forces.⁹⁷

To reiterate, during Vietnam, Bill Clinton avoided the draft through subterfuge and instead served as an international leader in a pro-communist, anti-⁹⁷ Colonel Eugene Holmes, Affidavit of September 1992.

American activist network which was organized by IPS and which sought the counsel of, and was applauded by Viet Cong, North Vietnamese, East German and Soviet Union leaders. Not surprisingly, much of the FBI's record on persons involved with IPS's activism as it relates to the Vietnam Moratorium remains classified to this day, "in the interest of national defense," by order of none other than the President of the United States!

Bill Clinton Linked to IPS Through the Progressive Policy Institute

One of the camouflage techniques IPS uses to shroud its activities is to form organizations outside itself which it influences or runs, but which do not carry the negative connotation of its name. Such is the case with, "The Progressive Policy Institute, widely billed as President-elect Bill Clinton's think tank."⁹⁸ The Vice President of the Progressive Policy Institute is veteran IPS member Robert Shapiro.⁹⁹

This galling reality, that Bill Clinton identifies himself with a spin-off group led by an IPS activist, is harsh indeed. Harsher still are the evidences of how that group is affecting Clinton's policies. For example, much has been heard about Mr. Clinton's plan to, "reinvent government," the Progressive Policy Institute's Prospectus advertises a book by one of its members titled, Laboratories of Democracy and Reinventing Government.

Bill Clinton Linked to IPS Through Derek Shearer

As the opening of SECRET reveals, one of Bill Clinton's main links to IPS is through his closest friend and advisor, IPS man Derek Shearer.

'Derek is a very old and close friend of Bill Clinton's, and among the advisors he is probably one of the oldest and closest friends,' says Mr. Altman, an investment banker and vice chairman of Blackstone Group. Gov. Clinton's communications director, George Stephanopolous, calls Mr. Shearer both 'friend and advisor' to the governor who has hosted the Clintons at his house near the beach.¹⁰⁰

Following is an examination of the philosophies IPS man Shearer now brings to the White House.

Shearer Claims Marxism Helps us "Humanize." Derek Shearer embraces, "worker controlled enterprises" such as he claims exist in Yugoslavia, China and Cuba. He writes:

. . . Marxist economic and social philosophy . . . was and is an attempt to humanize economic and social life. . . . American visitors to China and Cuba . . . will attest to the austerity of life . . . yet, they also comment on the spirit of cooperativeness and well-being that pervades Chinese and Cuban life.¹⁰¹

Shearer Embraces Communist Party Leader Antonio Gramsci. Derek Shearer is a prime leader in a nationwide consortium of leftists who advocate a socialist program they call "Economic Democracy," (ED). Of ED, Shearer confesses, "The . . . economic reform program which we've described will inevitably be labeled socialistic."¹⁰² Indeed, Shearer reveals his Economic Democracy is fashioned, in part, according to the teachings of the famed Italian communist leader Antonio Gramsci;¹⁰³ one of this century's foremost Marxist theoreticians.¹⁰⁴

Shearer's admiration for Comrade Gramsci's world view and his ability to actualize that world view through Bill Clinton is no secret. Wrote author and political analyst Larry Abraham:

If Bill Clinton wins this election, it will mark the end of . . . America's 'goodness.' Under a Clinton co-regency. . . . It will be the totally amoral order envisioned six decades ago by the Italian Marxist Antonio Gramsci.¹⁰⁵

Shearer's Economic Democracy: Socialism, Taxation & Corporate Dismantlement. Economist Thomas DiLorenzo warns, "Shearer's perspective on the U.S. economy, and on the role of profit in it, has led him to show a certain hostility toward private ownership."¹⁰⁶ For example, Shearer advocates, ". . . Dismantling, or at least restricting the power of . . . corporations. . . ." ¹⁰⁷ No wonder Shearer has been labeled the, "scourge of corporate America," ¹⁰⁸ and the ED crowd has been dubbed, "the anti-industry coalition." ¹⁰⁹ Knowing that Americans do not respond to calls for socialism, Shearer instead uses the innocuous euphemism "Economic Democracy" to dupe listeners into supporting his plan. He states:

Socialism has a bad name in America, and no amount of wishful thinking on the part of the left is going to change that. . . . The words Economic Democracy are an adequate and effective replacement.¹¹⁰

Earlier, Shearer used this same disarming propaganda phrase to promote socialism while running Jane Fonda and Tom Hayden's similarly named Campaign for Economic Democracy (CED)¹¹¹ in Santa Monica, California--with disastrous results! After Shearer's wife was elected Mayor of Santa Monica, she appointed Derek and his fellow CED activists to the city commission.

Guided by this philosophy, Santa Monica has adopted the strictest, and most destructive, rent controls in the nation. In 1982, Mr. Shearer told Ed Bradley of CBS's '60 Minutes'. . . the Campaign for Economic Democracy . . . was recommending a radical redistribution of the wealth in Santa Monica. The hope was to, 'use the power of the . . . government to control the wealth of the city.'¹¹²

Shearer's anti-business edicts soon crippled Santa Monica's economy and earned that city the derogatory nickname, "the Peoples Republic of Santa Monica." Amidst the financial wreckage they caused, the Shearer's were nabbed taking a suspicious free trip to London which might have violated state law. Later, Derek was hounded from office amid complaints that he had not only impoverished the city through socialism, but that he was a bickering incompetent who often even failed to show up for work.¹¹³ After that central planning debacle and career bust, Clinton still now evidently believes Shearer is qualified to guide the entire nation in matters of industry and commerce!

Shearer ardently maintains that a prime goal of Economic Democracy is indeed to remove control of corporations from stock holding citizens and company officials (who are also citizens) and place control of corporations into the hands of the government; classic Communist Manifesto ideology.

After reading Shearer's book, Economic Democracy, one Wall Street Journal reporter wrote that Shearer hopes for a national economy, ". . . Planned by government bureaucrats. They also call for nothing less than complete governmental control of the capital markets."¹¹⁴ Shearer uses manipulative language in such writings, always referring to the government as the "public," in order to lessen the shock of his proposals.¹¹⁵ Examples:

The two essential elements of any strategy of fundamental reform in the United States today are: (1) The shift of investment control from corporate domination to the public; and (2) The reconstruction of economic decision making through . . . worker/consumer-controlled production.¹¹⁶

A strategy of reform must transfer capital from the corporations to the public, so that the people who work and consume can collectively . . . decide what to do with it. The . . . vehicle for that process should be the government.¹¹⁷

Shearer definitively considers the "public" to actually mean the "government" when he speaks of this forced redistribution of wealth and power:

The basic elements of our strategy . . . are: the creation, from both private and public employee funds, of city--and state-owned banks staffed with trust departments . . . to handle large pension fund accounts . . . using this 'pension power,' federal purchase of at least one healthy national bank holding company . . . [would be possible] giving the government a stronger position from which to influence the activities of the remaining banks.¹¹⁸

As private banks have deemed such collectivist endeavors uncreditworthy, Shearer advocates funding his system by raising taxes and punishing those who insist on practicing free economics by denying them tax incentives. He further proposes hounding entrepreneurial capitalists through lawsuits and proposing that, ". . . Corporations would be required to submit a 'social balance sheet' to regulators each year."¹¹⁹ So by punishing entrepreneurs while granting subsidies to those who obey his Marxist model, Shearer evidently plans to effectively nationalize U.S. industry.¹²⁰ More proofs:

[In an article in the Nation, Shearer called on Washington to] *create a government-owned holding company, which would purchase a controlling interest in a major firm in every leading industry.*¹²¹

According to 'Economic Democracy,' Mr. Shearer favors . . . pervasive governmental control of virtually all business behavior. If an industry, 'refuses to bargain' with the government by, say, objecting to the imposition of price controls, 'real sanctions must be levied. . . . These could include the denial of tax advantages and other subsidies, denial of export licenses, threat of antitrust suits, and so on.'¹²²

[In his book, A New Social Contract, Shearer called for] government 'control of . . . investment.' Dozens of newly created government enterprises are 'the cornerstones

¹¹⁶ Shearer and Carnoy, loc. cit. In actuality, corporations already belong to the populace (stockholders). And corporate managers (who are also people) are responsible to those citizens who purchase ownership through stock. Also, consumers already control production in the free market, by demanding some products and not purchasing others.

of our New Social Contract,' under which private businesses will be 'guided by new rules of behavior' enforced by . . . government planning agencies.¹²³

IPS may brag on Shearer's goals as being "Eurocommunist" in nature,¹²⁴ but Dr. James T. Bennett (Eminent Scholar of George Mason University) and Thomas J. DiLorenzo (professor of economics at Loyola College) have only warnings about Shearer and his Economic Democracy plan:

The anti-industry coalition is undertaking a well-organized attack on the basic institutions of a free-enterprise, private-property economy. Its philosophy of economic democracy, according to Derek Shearer, is not substantially different from socialism. Most professional economists acknowledge that such policies as the government ownership of industry, price controls, government-mandated codetermination, and strict regulation can only reduce the wealth of nations. It is precisely this result, however, that would provide the anti-industry coalition with opportunities to take control politically at the federal, state, and local levels of government.¹²⁵

It is the advocate of this system who is lurching with the President and advising him on policy--chumming with Mr. Clinton and spending long hours with him as his personal reading companion.¹²⁶ And it appears that Hillary shares similar views. When Hillary gave the commencement address at Wellesley College in 1969, she there railed against the, "Acquisitive and competitive corporate life." And while delivering a commencement address on May 1, 1993 at the University of Michigan, Hillary fondly reinvoked her 1969 anti-industry speech again.¹²⁷

Bill's courtiers appear to be drinking deeply of such Marxist drivel, but it is doubtful the American people will similarly imbibe if given an honest choice. However, if Gramsci's plan to covertly introduce such precepts is followed, Americans could wake up one day and find such measures imposed on them anyway! Examples:

Gramsci . . . argued that power is best attained in developed . . . countries through a gradual process of radicalization of the cultural institutions . . . [so as to] transform the values and morals of the society. Gramsci believed that as society's morals were softened, so its political and economic foundation would be more easily smashed....¹²⁸

There is a consistency between the way IPS operates and the revolutionary activity advocated by . . . Gramsci. For both it is important to infiltrate autonomous institutions--schools, media, churches, public interest groups--so as to radically transform the culture, which determines the environment in which political and economic policies are played out.¹²⁹

Scholars agree that Shearer's Economic Democracy plan includes ideas which would make Comrade Gramsci very happy--including draconian controls and restrictions on private businesses, empowering collectivist bullies to manipulate prices and taxes, and the confiscation and redistribution of private property.¹³⁰ Americans must ask themselves if such "change" would bring about a utopian dreamland, or a Marxist nightmare?

Shearer and SDS/Communist Veterans Promote Economic Democracy via CASLP. In 1975 Shearer helped IPS form a spin-off group called the Conference on Alternative State and Local Policies (CASLP) which was to be the vehicle for Shearer to wage IPS's war against entrepreneurial capitalism. Indeed, an IPS brochure advertises CASLP as an effort to, "Strengthen the programmatic work of the Left . . . to enlarge the base committed to policies for a restructured America." CASLP has been deemed one of, "IPS's most important developments,"¹³¹ as well as, "The most prominent state-level organization aimed at pursuing the anti-industry agenda. . . ." ¹³² Dr. Powell elaborates on IPS's purpose in forming CASLP:

. . . It is part and parcel of our adversaries' program to establish a socialist world order to displace the corporate structure and to weaken the capitalist system. So they have targeted corporations and the Institute for Policy Studies has been a leading organization in creating a network of anti-corporate groups.... Right at the top of the list is the Conference on Alternative State and Local Policies. . . .¹³³

The FBI has been monitoring Shearer's extremist CASLP plan for some time. One FBI File even includes a clipping from The Capitol Times of Madison, Wisconsin, which features Shearer leading a CASLP meeting. That article's headline blares, "60s Activists, Now Elected Officials, Will Gather Here." The article revealed how IPS was sponsoring, "A nationwide conference of elected state and municipal officials who share a populist or radical outlook." That FBI resource also reveals:

[CASLP had] . . . Derek Shearer . . . as one of the meeting's advance men. . . . Shearer, a special consultant to California's Director of Employment who attained some prominence on the left as a writer for Ramparts magazine during the [Vietnam] war years, said he has 'modest hopes' for the organization which is planned to come out of the conference.¹³⁴

CASLP was headquartered at IPS and IPS was heavily involved in promoting Economic Democracy through CASLP.¹³⁵ Working on CASLP's steering committee with Shearer were Robert Borosage (Director of IPS), Lee Webb (ex-Bureau Chief for the pro-communist Guardian newspaper¹³⁶ and former National Secretary for the terroristic SDS group), Barbara Bick (former Communist Party member), and Castroite Ron Dellums.¹³⁷

Shearer's "Communist" Ideals Admitted by IPS. Derek Shearer's Economic Democracy is in reality an agitational propaganda program designed to introduce and institute Marxist socialism. Even IPS admits such, revealing Shearer's writings are based on, "Eurocommunist economic models" and stating that Shearer is:

. . . Fond of vague phrases like 'worker's control.' Conference member Derek

Shearer . . . helped write Hayden's campaign platform. . . . The platform . . . is filled with panaceas such as advocacy of state banks, municipally-owned utilities, national health service, and direct worker's control of industry.¹³⁸

It is apparent that Shearer's proposals are finding a home in the Clinton administration--examples being the Clinton's shrill anti-industry rhetoric and their fetish over socializing health care. Socialized Health Care has long been an IPS goal. This was plainly spelled out in an expose' which appeared in a 1976 issue of Barron's Magazine.

According to IPS, regulation and taxation are desirable, as they help control the citizenry and cripple the free enterprise system.

In that article, IPS man Marcus Raskin described how IPS's strategy was to enlist the support of liberal Congressmen (such as Ron Dellums; D-CA) and then await a Democratic Presidential victory. Raskin stated, "I think that I will have . . . on the assumption that the Democrats win the election, really a powerful effect."¹³⁹

Likewise, Shearer's Economic Democracy concept of seizing pension funds has also been floated by Clinton. Congressman Hyde warns:

. . . The same folks who brought us the largest tax increase in the history of the Republic . . . are now drawing up plans to add an onerous tax on people's retirement annuities. . . . President Clinton is considering ending this tax deferral [on pension funds]. We should not let this happen. . . . These people are not rich and need their annuities to retire in dignity. Unfortunately, we have come to learn from painful experience that President Clinton's definition of 'rich' includes many who view themselves as 'middle class.'¹⁴⁰ to America, one should also study the background of other persons with IPS links who have helped Shearer promote Economic Democracy in the past--and whom he might now need to assist him in the Clinton White House.

Shearer's Radical Retinue: All Linked to Marxism, IPS and Economic Democracy

As the following pages will attest, reviewing a list of Shearer's Economic Democracy assistants is like reading a lexicon of radical liberalism, or even a Who's Who of Marxist subversion.

Ron Dellums, Shearer and IPS. Because of political jugglings due to Clinton's election, Dellums (D-CA), now leads the House Armed Services Committee. Ron Dellums, previously mentioned working with Shearer on IPS's CASLP project, has a history of Marxist militancy which goes far beyond mere collaboration with IPS--which he is also certainly guilty of.¹⁴¹

According to media quotes, Dellums is known as an, "openly-avowed Marxist"¹⁴² who is ". . . A part of a Marxist coalition that decided the way to change the U.S. was to infiltrate and work from inside the power structure." Additionally, Dellums raised funds for the pro-Marxist publication The Guardian and opened his congressional office to the Salvadoran Communist Party--helping they and IPS form the CISPES group--which was largely responsible for promoting the communist insurgency in El Salvador which killed thousands.¹⁴³

Dellums has received U.S. Communist Party dignitaries in his Washington office and has personally accepted a commendation from U.S. Communist Party boss Gus Hall. Also, one of Dellums' staffers is the former business manager of People's Daily World, the Communist Party USA's West Coast newspaper.¹⁴⁴

Dellums has not only associated with communists, but has led them on missions also. Dellums served as President of the Conference in Solidarity with the Liberation Struggles of the Peoples of Southern Africa, and had as his assistant Carl Bloice.¹⁴⁵ Bloice was at the time a top leader in Moscow's Central Committee of the Communist Party, and served as editor of People's Daily World.¹⁴⁶ Sponsoring comrades Dellums and Bloice in their joint endeavor were the ANC and SWAPO Marxist-terrorist groups, the American Institute for Marxist Studies and Castro's Venceremos Brigade. Additional sponsors included William Kunstler, the National Lawyers Guild and CISPES,¹⁴⁷ three radical entities which shall be scrutinized in depth later in SECRET in the segment on Hillary Clinton's IPS/Marxist endeavors.

Whether or not 'communism is dead' in Moscow, Shearer is keeping the views of one of this century's foremost communist theorists alive and well in Washington.

Having the ignominious distinction of voting against most every U.S. military expenditure proposed during his tenure, Dellums also showed his colors by placing the text of a secret document into the Congressional Record which:

. . . Turned out to be a gold mine of information for the KGB and Soviet military intelligence and undoubtedly led to the death of U.S. soldiers in Vietnam.¹⁴⁸

Ex-Black Panther Eldrige Cleaver (now reformed and highly respected in the religious and business communities) affirms, "I know [Dellums] personally . . . this man believes the world would be better off if America lost power and Communists took over."¹⁴⁹ Regarding Dellums, the Colorado Springs Gazette Telegraph wrote:

After the U.S. invasion of Grenada, congressional documents were found [in Grenada] sent by Dellums to Grenada's communist leader Maurice Bishop. Two of his aides went on Radio Havana immediately after the Grenada action to declare the United States to be guilty of war crimes. . . . [According to Dellums] Sadam Hussein is a swell guy and the United States is the bad guy. . . . By his long-running record of hostility to U.S.

foreign policy, Dellums has marked himself as an active enemy of American interests abroad. By putting him on such a sensitive committee, Speaker Foley has made him even more dangerous.¹⁵⁰

In the captured documents mentioned above which Dellums' aide Carlotta Scott sent to Grenada's communist dictator Bishop, she wrote:

[Dellums] is really hooked on you and Grenada and doesn't want anything to happen to building the Revolution and making it strong. He really admires you as a person and even more so as a leader with courage and foresight, principle and integrity. Believe me, he doesn't make that kind of statement often about anyone. The only other person that I know of that he expresses such admiration for is Fidel [Castro].¹⁵¹

Ron just has to get all his thoughts in order as to how your interests can best be served. Ron, as a political thinker, is the best around and Fidel will verify that in no uncertain terms. When matched against the best of them, Ron comes out ahead--even with Fidel.¹⁵²

The National Review confirmed, "Dellums vastly admires Fidel Castro, and constituted himself a PR man for the gimcrack Communist regime of Grenada's Maurice Bishop. Dellums routinely employs Marxist prayer-wheel jargon to express his hatred for the United States."¹⁵³ Dellums' political rap sheet is as long as it is dirty. It shows him:

Delivering keynote address at a Black Panther birthday party honoring cop-killer Huey Newton.

Organizing an exhibit of "war crimes" allegedly committed by U.S. soldiers, publicly desecrating and throwing away U.S. military medals, and giving an anti-American speech while standing under a Viet Cong flag.

Allowing Grenada's Marxist dictator Maurice Bishop to help write Dellums' Congressional speeches, in order to assure that the communists would be shown in the most favorable light.

Advocating the dissolution of the FBI, CIA, and all other Intelligence services; joining the Democratic Socialist Organizing Committee.

Granting interviews with the Soviet Tass news agency during which which he praised the USSR and assailed the United States.

Lobbying for U.S. taxpayers to pay pensions to veterans--of the communist army which fought to overthrow Spain.¹⁵⁴

When Dellums was appointed to the House Intelligence Committee, which is privy to some of our most sensitive Intelligence and military secrets, Human Events wrote, "The Dellums selection is a first-rate national security scandal. . . ." ¹⁵⁵ Dellums not only now holds sway over our military, but because of Clinton's election is now more able to assist Shearer in implementing ED nationwide.

Tom Hayden, Shearer and IPS. Derek Shearer and radical leftist Tom Hayden (ex-husband of Jane Fonda) are close Economic Democracy comrades.¹⁵⁶ Shearer served as political advisor to Fonda and Hayden when those two were married; and wrote Hayden's platform for his unsuccessful bid for the U.S. Senate in 1976.

After that political failure, Shearer assumed a board position on Fonda and Hayden's Campaign for Economic Democracy (CED) project which was designed to institute Economic Democracy in Santa Monica, California,¹⁵⁷ where Shearer and Hayden were neighbors.¹⁵⁸ While serving in that capacity, Shearer candidly admitted that their objective was, ¹⁵⁶ A 1977 CASLP conference in California used the handbook, Working Papers on Economic Democracy, claiming it was, "...Meant...to lay the basis for further development of a state-wide perspective on Economic Democracy." It acknowledged the contribution of Tom Hayden, "Who put considerable time into reading, editing and advising on each paper...and Derek Shearer, whose voluminous work has helped lay the theoretical basis for Economic Democracy." Per Powell, op. cit., pp. 200 & 417.

“. . . To use the power of the city government to control the wealth of the city.”¹⁵⁹ Likewise, Hayden stated:

We all know about the stagnant thing in our midst. And we've all fallen in--one way or another. We suffer its racism and sexism and joblessness and wars and inflation and its sugar-coated poisonings of our minds and bodies. It has a name, this source of our ills. An x-rated word--rarely spoken. . . . We think it's time to name--and publicly challenge the foul thing out loud. The stink in our midst is called corporate capitalism--and who says we have to live with it forever? Enough's enough.¹⁶⁰

Hayden first associated with IPS in 1968 when he helped IPS overseer Cora Weiss and other fanatics plan the riots at the 1968 Democratic Convention. That conflagration resulted in looters running amok through Chicago for days, burning and overturning cars and smashing windows--inflicting huge losses on a stunned community. As a result of that assault on an American city, 686 rioters were arrested, including IPS Director Peter Weiss.

“Communism is one of the options that can improve people's lives.”

--Tom Hayden

Following that IPS-inspired riot, Hayden's radical SDS group took to the streets of Chicago to conduct their famous “Days of Rage” pillage which resulted in another 284 arrests. Following that insurrection, Arthur Waskow of IPS wired $500 to Neil Burnham (who was coordinator over those rioters) in order to bail some of them out of jail. Waskow then marched to the Justice Department in Washington, demanding that the government indict Illinois State Attorney Edward Hanrahan for prosecuting the jailed criminals.¹⁶¹ Hayden has had other contact with IPS too:

In 1964, less than a year after its founding, IPS brought Stokely Carmichael to its . . . headquarters for a conference series. A little later, Carmichael joined . . . Castro in Havana, where he declared that ‘we are moving toward urban guerrilla warfare within the United States . . . in order to change the structure of that capitalist society’ and, he insisted, ‘we have no alternative but to use aggressive armed violence.’ By 1965 IPS had become a hub of revolutionary activism, having brought together such militants as Tom Hayden...Rubin...and...the...SDS...¹⁶²

Regarding communist societies in general and wartime Hanoi in particular, Hayden rhapsodized:

Even before arriving in Hanoi we were struck by the grace, variety and established identity of the Vietnamese. . . . Our impression of an effectively organized society, with its own genuine character, was deepened as we flew over the Chinese border into Vietnam. Below rolled miles of delicately manicured fields.¹⁶³

. . . We also discovered that we felt empathy for those . . . of the other side, spokesmen for the Communist world in Prague and Moscow, Peking and Hanoi. After all, we call ourselves in some sense revolutionaries. So do they.¹⁶⁴

We knew too what the Vietnamese contribution to a humane socialism would be; it was evident in the unembarrassed handclaps among men, the poetry and song at the center of man-woman relationships, the freedom to weep practised [sic] by everyone . . . as the Vietnamese speak of their country.... Here we began to understand the possibilities for a socialism of the heart.¹⁶⁵

Regarding the paling atrocities North Vietnam committed against its own people during the forced collectivization of farms in 1956, Tom rationalized:

We suggest that this episode should be viewed as an extension of the war against the French and the violence involved should be assessed in the same context as the terror of the resistance itself.¹⁶⁶

Landing in Hanoi, Tom must have thought he had fallen out of the skies into Valhalla itself. However, Peking brought him even more mirth:

We landed in Peking early in the afternoon... The sense of a different world was immediate. . . . We could feel the West was behind us. . . . The Communist 'Internationale' [anthem] boomed with conviction from outdoor loudspeakers at the large modern airport. . . . Walking before breakfast...we passed a group of women energetically singing before starting a day's work. Everywhere is the pulse of purposeful activity.¹⁶⁷

During the Vietnam war Hayden worked closely with top communists in producing propaganda, and further showed his support for their cause by writing North Vietnamese Colonel Van this letter:

We hope that the current Paris discussions go well for you. The [negative] news from South Vietnam seems very good. We hope to see you this summer in Paris....

Good Fortune! Victory!
Tom Hayden¹⁶⁸

Hayden pontificates that U.S. prisoners were not tortured by the North Vietnamese, but that, "They were the best treated prisoners in any war in history."¹⁶⁹ In the same vein, one year before he ran for the U.S. Senate Hayden was quoted by the New York Times regarding the final communist takeover of Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos:

This is a result of something we've been working toward a long time. Indochina has not fallen--it has risen. . . . Communism is one of the options that can improve people's lives.¹⁷⁰

It was this man whom Shearer worked diligently to seat in the U.S. Congress; and whose Council for Economic Democracy Shearer directed.

Jane Fonda, Shearer and IPS. Fonda (Clinton's Goodwill Ambassador to the UN) has been a long time apologist for the world's worst communist dictatorships. For example, she, maintains that the North Vietnamese communists were, "the conscience of the world" and that they were, "driven by the same spirit that drove Washington and Jefferson."¹⁷¹

As was previously documented, Jane Fonda utilized IPS man Derek Shearer to write then-husband Tom Hayden's platform for Hayden's bid for the U.S. Senate; and Shearer served on the board of Fonda and Hayden's Campaign for Economic Democracy.

Columnist John Lofton summed up Fonda's political proclivities best, publishing one of his national editorials as if it were a letter directly to her:

. . . And a little box with your interview, featuring the so called 'highlights' of your life, shows just how wrong you were. It reads: '1972; Called for a Viet Cong and North Vietnamese victory in the Vietnam War and visited Hanoi. While she was there, media in U.S.A. reported that she had urged U.S. servicemen to desert during broadcasts over Radio Hanoi. On her return, she was called "Hanoi Jane" and labeled a traitor in Congress. . . .'

For millions of Americans, your most memorable starring role was not in any film we saw in our neighborhood theater. It was when we saw you on our TV screens, in mid-1972, on the nightly news, in North Vietnam, where, laughing and wearing a [Soviet] helmet, you were shown seated in the gunner's seat of a Communist anti-aircraft gun. . . .

And then there were our prisoners-of-war in Vietnam. Remember these guys? They were the ones you called 'professional killers' as contrasted with the North Vietnamese whom you labeled 'a gentle people,' people so gentle you questioned whether they really ever tortured anybody. . . . And then there were those broadcasts on Radio Hanoi in which you called our fighting men 'war criminals,' and those Communists killing our fathers, sons, and brothers, 'heroic sons' fighting for 'freedom.' I think a lot of people think this was wrong, particularly the broadcast to our GIs . . . in which you seemed to encourage dissident U.S. troops to murder their officers.

Commenting on 'fragging'--the throwing of a fragmentation grenade into the tent of a 'gung-ho officer' determined to send his troops against those who were not really the enemy--you said that in America, however, 'we do support soldiers who are beginning to think for themselves.' Clever, Jane. And don't worry. Your message came through loud and clear. . . .

I think a lot of people think you were wrong when, according to the Detroit Free Press, you told a Michigan State University audience in November, 1970: 'I would think that, if you understood what communism was, you would hope, you would pray on your knees that we would become communist.'¹⁷²

Readers might have thought Fonda had recently abandoned communism and turned into a capitalist, marketing exercise videos and all. But that image was dispelled in February 1989 when she reportedly announced, "The money from my exercise videos goes to my husband's political campaigns and to my socialist concerns."¹⁷³

"I would think that, if you understood what communism was, you would hope, you would pray on your knees that we would become communist."

--Jane Fonda

That remark brought Fonda under renewed and intensified fire. When video sales dropped, Barbara Walters interviewed Fonda on '20/20,' offering Fonda a global forum to polish her ugly image. Time and again, Walters there gently coaxed Fonda into intoning misty-eyed assertions of innocence and goodwill in front of television viewers everywhere.

It was later revealed that Walters' husband was Chairman of the Board of Lorimar Productions, the company distributing Fonda's videos.¹⁷⁴ That revelation stank of a staged collaborative effort between Fonda and Walters to make more money together, rather than being a spontaneous public repentance as viewers were led to believe. Also, the Center For Investigative Reporting, which is an IPS branch,¹⁷⁵ is regularly contracted by ABC to research and conceptualize stories for Walters and '20/20.'¹⁷⁶

Sidney Lens, Shearer and IPS. IPS man Lens also supports Shearer's Economic Democracy program.¹⁷⁷ Lens has held membership in the Communist League of America,¹⁷⁸ the Workers Party and the Revolutionary Workers League.¹⁷⁹

An active radical in the 1960s Peace Movement, Lens' autobiography, Unrepentant Radical, defended Marxism, attacked capitalism, called for public seizure of corporations, nationalization of banks, oil companies and utilities--and proposed a constrictive national environmental plan;¹⁸⁰ as well as, "a dozen forms of neighborhood and regional control by political leaders."¹⁸¹

Lens was also an organizer of the communist/IPS-led New MOBE protest group which SECRET earlier exposed as being Bill Clinton's first known link with IPS.

Jeremy Rifkin, Shearer and IPS. Economic Democracy supporter (and New Ager) Rifkin has served as an IPS conference instructor.¹⁸² According to Reed Irvine of Accuracy In Media:

Jeremy Rifkin . . . [was] formerly a field representative of the so-called 'New American Movement,' [which is] a descendant of the Maoist branch of the new left.

According to the Nov-Dec 1971 issue of the group's underground paper, Rifkin was assigned to . . . sanitize its literature and tone down the socialist rhetoric so that it would not drive away

'the average citizen.'

In this same paper, Rifkin laid out the blueprint . . . offering it as a means by which the American 'revolutionary heritage could be used as a tactical weapon' by the left to move the people toward acceptance of the doctrines of 'Lenin, Mao, Che, and the struggles of all oppressed people of the world.'

The man behind Rifkin is the old leftist John Rossen, a former Communist Party organizer.... [Their] 'economic democracy' is an example of Rifkin's toning down radical rhetoric to make it more palatable to the 'average man.' It means socialism.¹⁸³

Richard Barnet, Shearer and IPS. Shearer's leader at IPS, IPS cofounder Richard J. Barnet (critiqued earlier) has also spoken in support of Economic Democracy themes, arguing that the, "myth of free enterprise" is not "legitimate" because "... The concentration of economic power in the hands of a few hundred corporate managers and stockholders is inevitably translated into political power which destroys the myth of democracy."¹⁸⁴ Evidently Barnet believes as Marx did, that such privately earned assets should be seized by the government and forcefully redistributed.

KGB Agent I.F. Stone, Shearer and IPS. A writer for The Wall Street Journal reports:

At a 1981 conference of left-wing activists...featuring I.F. Stone. . . . Mr. Shearer elaborated, 'While we can't use the "S" word [socialism] too effectively in American politics,' he said, as quoted in Barron's, 'we have found the...word Economic Democracy sells. You can take it door to door like Fuller Brushes, and the door will not be slammed in your face.'¹⁸⁵

And just who was this I.F. Stone who there joined Shearer in promoting Economic Democracy themes? In addition to being one of Shearer's fellow IPS members,¹⁸⁶ National Review reveals:

Herbert Romerstein, a retired USIA anti-disinformation official, reported in the June 6 [1992] Human Events that 'a retired high-ranking KGB officer with extensive knowledge about operations against the United States identified the late American journalist I.F. Stone as a paid KGB agent.' Romerstein's source put Stone's name to an agent who had previously been more vaguely described by former KGB General Oleg Kalugin as 'a well known American journalist--with a good reputation.' Stone, the premier leftist journalist of the postwar era, was indeed lionized by the major media on his death in 1989--Peter Jennings made him 'Person of the Week' and praised his determination 'to write the truth, to defend the weak against the strong, to fight for justice.' So this investigative journalism was distinctly unwelcome.

When the New York Post ran another piece by Romerstein, the New York Times bemoaned 'the search for Red spies' and dismissed Romerstein and Reed Irvine, who also pursued the story, as 'dupes of Moscow apparatchiks.' As the Post's Eric Breindel points out, leftists and even some liberals will write off all evidence that comes from ex-communists. But why are the major institutions of American journalism so determined not to pursue substantial allegations against this almost mythical figure? Are they perhaps afraid of what they might discover about Stone--and about themselves?¹⁸⁷

Sam Brown, Shearer, Vietnamese Communists and IPS. As shall be shown later in SECRET in the section on Clinton's appointment of IPS activists, Sam Brown is known as a fire-brand Marxist who worked diligently for the defeat of the United States and for the success of the Viet Cong during the Vietnam War.

Brown worked closely with IPS and Shearer in support of Shearer's ED program. Communist Party and IPS member Barbara Bick reports that Brown helped Shearer organize Shearer's previously reviewed CASLP program to push ED nationwide. And Comrade Bick should know, for she served as CASLP's National Coordinator.¹⁸⁸

Communist Party Member Barbara Bick, Shearer and IPS. As mentioned above, Bick--a veteran member of the Communist Party USA--served as National Coordinator for Derek Shearer's CASLP group. Under her leadership CASLP proposed such schemes as empowering inmates to run their prisons, government seizure of the cable, telephone, energy and utility industries, and the institution of sixteen new taxes or other forms of asset confiscation. Bick also led an IPS planning session which resulted in demonstrations and riots in 1970 which shut down hundreds of universities and led to the arrest of hundreds of people nationwide.

Shearer's Master Strategy: Elect a Socialist President

Derek Shearer has long spoken of a plan to elect a socialist-minded President who would help advance Shearer's Economic Democracy program:

[Shearer writes] that 'progressive' policies, such as those he helped to implement in Santa Monica, will come to other cities . . . with the election of, 'a reform-minded Democrat president. . . .'¹⁸⁹

Shearer estimated that to implement 'economic democracy' in America, the Left would need twenty to thirty governors [and] big-city mayors, ten or twenty senators, fifty House members, three or four national union leaders, and a sympathetic president.¹⁹⁰

[Shearer teaches to] focus on winning state and local elections, not a third party or a national left organization; and on founding and running . . . enterprises, schools, and publications. Only once such a base is built will we be in a position to run a candidate for the presidency or in any other way challenge for national power.¹⁹¹

[Shearer's book] Economic Democracy advises readers to work as a 'party within [the Democratic] party.' After an election is won, leftists are to continue in 'action organizations,' carrying out 'direct action.' . . . lawsuits, demonstrations, and . . . lobbying on economic issues like housing and development. . . . They are to run slates, to be bold, to construct community institutions. . . . 'Most of the attention and energy in the decade of the 1980s [states Shearer] should go toward building state and local political efforts. . . .' But, in the not too distant future, the movement will run a candidate for president--'the one integrating factor in national politics'--in the Democratic party.¹⁹²

[In Economic Democracy, Shearer urges readers] ". . . To build a mass political movement on the basis of a program such as ours and to win a majority of local, state, and national governing bodies;"¹⁹³

[Shearer ends Economic Democracy] by expressing hope that economic democracy will play an, 'influential if not leading role in the next Democratic administration.'¹⁹⁴

Shearer's Link to the 'Secret Establishment.' Most readers would scoff at the idea that an unknown radical like Shearer could orchestrate the election of a socialist buddy to the Presidency; except that Shearer is not an unknown radical. His step-brother is Strobe Talbott, former housemate of Bill Clinton at Oxford, former editor-at-large of Time, and a member of the powerful and elitist Council on Foreign Relations (CFR)--known in political circles as the Secret Establishment.

Since its inception by communists and other globalists in 1922, the CFR has dedicated itself to erecting the UN, and forming a socialist World Government under the UN which all nations (including the U.S.) are to be made subservient to. Not surprisingly, Talbott recently received the Norman Cousins Global Governance Award from the World Federalist Association in recognition of his anti-American zealotry. Talbott states, "I'll bet that within the next hundred years . . . nationhood will be obsolete; all states will recognize a single global authority."¹⁹⁵

This powerful globalist, who is Derek and Brooke Shearer's step brother, evidently utilized his vast influence in political, media and money circles around the globe to help actualize Derek's dream of electing a socialist-minded man to the Presidency. In fact, it is reported that, "Talbott helped the Clinton campaign when the heat was on by lying in print about Bill Clinton and the draft."¹⁹⁶

While jogging with Clinton after helping him gain the White House, Talbott was reportedly asked by Clinton whether he would like an Ambassadorship or a job at the State Department. Talbott took both positions--first serving as Ambassador to the former Soviet Union,¹⁹⁷ and later accepting appointment as Assistant Secretary of State.¹⁹⁸

The seriousness of Strobe Talbott's membership in the CFR cannot be understated; especially since IPS co-founder Richard Barnet, Samuel Rubin's daughter Cora Weiss of IPS, Bill Clinton and some ninety seven of Clinton's underlings (including Al Gore) also share membership in the CFR!¹⁹⁹ Senator Barry Goldwater warns:

'The CFR is composed of . . . the most elite names in the world of government, labor, business, finance, communication, the foundations, and the academies. It has staffed almost every key position of every administration since FDR. . . .' A number of writers disturbed by the influential role this organization has played in determining foreign policy have concluded the Council of Foreign Relations and its members are an active part of the communist conspiracy for world domination. . . . Many of the policies advocated by the CFR have been damaging to the cause of freedom and particularly to the United States, but this is not because the members are communist or communist sympathizers. This explanation of our foreign policy reversals is too pat, too simplistic.

I believe the Council on Foreign Relations and its ancillary elitist groups are indifferent to communism. They have no ideological anchors. In their pursuit for of a new world order [World Government] they are prepared to deal without prejudice with a communist state, a socialist state, a democratic state, monarchy, oligarchy--it's all the same to them.

Rear Admiral Ward, USN (Retd.), who was a member of the CFR for sixteen years, has written, 'The most powerful clique in these elitist groups have one objective in common--they want to bring about the surrender of the sovereignty and the national independence of the United States. . . .' To achieve this new [international] federalism, the United States must submerge its national identity and surrender substantial matters of sovereignty to a new political order. . . . In my view, [the CFR] represents a skillful, coordinated effort to seize control and consolidate the four centers of power; political, monetary, intellectual, and ecclesiastical.²⁰⁰

Shearer Shaping Clinton's Agenda. Aside from having served in Clinton's Commerce Department (which could help explain the condition of the economy) Shearer has also been an important policy advisor and spokesman for Bill Clinton:

Shearer . . . has been a regular attendee at meetings of Mr. Clinton's economic advisors and helped in shaping the candidate's economic plan. . . . Some . . . members of that group acknowledge that his friendship with . . . Clinton gives him access they lack. Among his contributions to the Clinton program were a proposal for an 'Economic Security Council,' modeled on the National Security Council, to oversee the nation's policies in such key areas as foreign trade and international monetary affairs. And he has taken a hand in shaping Clinton's positions on dealing with the former Soviet Union.²⁰²

Mr. Shearer's view of Mexican free trade . . . contributed to Gov. Clinton's hesitancy on the issue. . . .²⁰³

Regarding concern that Hillary's ultra-liberal friends were receiving too many appointments, Shearer was chosen to speak for the President, explaining to the national media:

She won't go around the chain of command or usurp the . . . cabinet members. . . . But since most of these people are friends of hers, she can have lunch with [them] and not be threatening.²⁰⁴

The preceding interview also revealed, "Shearer envisions her traveling with cabinet members to draw attention to key programs." Apparently, Shearer and Clinton see eye-to-eye on many issues:

Mr. Shearer hopes that Mr. Clinton . . . would enact a 'tax reform that seriously attempts to increase taxes for the rich. . . .' ²⁰⁵

Bill Clinton would seem to fit the bill. He is 'pragmatic and wants to get things done,' Mr. Shearer recently told the San Francisco Examiner. ²⁰⁶

Shearer says. . . . 'What I support is what's in [Clinton's] economic platform.' ²⁰⁷

And Shearer's book, A New Social Contract, sounds strangely similar to Clinton's call for "A New Covenant." Considering these facts, many would agree with Herbert Katz, an architect and former Santa Monica city councilman who headed the planning commission during Shearer's reign there. Stated Katz in The Wall Street Journal, "I can't think of anything scarier than Derek planning for the country." ²⁰⁸

Soon after copies of SECRET were sent to the Secret Service and to Senators reviewing Shearer's cabinet appointment, Shearer was hustled away from his job at the White House. Recently however, reports indicate that he is being considered for an Ambassadorial appointment--a position which will not require Senatorial approval.

Clinton Considers More IPS Operatives for Federal Appointment

Derek Shearer appears to have met his goal; he has seen the election of his close buddy Bill Clinton to the White House and serves as the President's confidant and pal. Not surprisingly, as the following pages reveal, Derek Shearer's IPS comrades appear again and again in Clinton's list of prospective and actual appointees.

Leon Panetta, Les Aspin and IPS. Clinton first appointed Panetta (D-CA) to head the Office of Management and Budget, and then to Chief of Staff. ²⁰⁹ Clinton also appointed CFR member Les Aspin (D-WI) as Secretary of Defense. ²¹⁰ These men have been long-time chums at IPS. In fact, Panetta and Aspin are known as two of the few, "IPS Admirers on Capital Hill." ²¹¹

On April 5, 1983, IPS threw itself a large twentieth-anniversary party to brag about IPS activities and raise funds for future projects. On the committee to put together that party and to praise and raise funds for IPS were none other than Panetta and Aspin! ²¹²

In addition to utilizing and raising funds for IPS with Aspin, Panetta has additional links to IPS. Panetta cosigned a letter which IPS leader Cynthia Arnson wrote to the Speaker of the House, demanding that the U.S. halt aid to anti-communist El Salvador. ²¹³ IPS leader Cynthia Arnson, whose politically correct letter Panetta signed, served with IPS leader Isabel Letelier (founder of the Marxist-terrorist support group CISPES) on IPS's Center for Development Policy project. Arnson's boss for that project was IPS man Fred Branfman, former CounterSpy editor and colleague of KGB agent Agee--who together bear responsibility for the murder of CIA Chief Welch. ²¹⁴

Panetta is also linked to other famous Marxists. His name appears on a May 14, 1993, Proclamation which honors Communist Party organizers Hugh and Dorothy DeLacy. A California Legislature report states that Hugh DeLacy, ". . . Devoted virtually all his time to the operation of Communist front operations and spreading Communist propaganda." The report adds that DeLacy's group, ". . . Has followed the Communist Party line as it switched and squirmed in support of the foreign policy of Soviet Russia."

The Proclamation, which includes Panetta's name as a signer, honors Hugh as, "Hugh the Indefatigable" and Dorothy as, "Dorothy the Organizer" who "Worked . . . as an organizer of the Communist Party." Declaring itself a present from "friends and comrades," the Proclamation also declares Panetta's "Love and affection, our gratitude, and our appreciation, and our solidarity forever with Hugh and Dorothy DeLacy. . . ." ²¹⁵

Ron Dellums²¹⁶ (critiqued earlier in SECRET); and has used IPS to help him decide policy and budget issues too.²¹⁷ In late 1993, Aspin resigned in ignominy after being castigated for his efforts to homosexualize the military, and for gross incompetence resulting in the unnecessary loss of American lives during the Somalia debacle.

Anthony Lake and IPS. Writing in the October 23, 1992 Washington Times, syndicated columnist Cord Meyer featured persons active in the Clinton campaign who were being considered for Clinton's foreign policy team, including CFR member Anthony Lake.

Anthony Lake--Clinton's National Security Advisor--served as an IPS instructor and worked with Cuban spy Orlando Letelier on IPS projects.

Lake (eventually appointed National Security Advisor)²¹⁸ served as an IPS instructor at IPS's Washington School²¹⁹ and at the Center for National Security Studies (an IPS spin-off group²²⁰) where he helped IPS co-founder Barnet Harangue and insult CIA director William Colby.²²¹ Lake was also associated with IPS man (and Cuban spy) Orlando Letelier through the Center for International Policy, which always seems to cast America's allies in the poorest light while turning a blind eye to communist atrocities.²²²

Lake seems a poor choice for National Security Advisor for another reason as well--as he has been suspected of being a security risk! Lake was identified as one of the possible sources responsible for leaking the secret Pentagon Papers which were stolen from the Pentagon. Likewise, Lake has reportedly leaked other classified documents to a number of liberal reporters.²²³ Two of his media snitches in particular, Anthony Lewis and Neil Sheehan of the New York Times, have strong ties to IPS and appear to have worked in concert with IPS to use Lake's purloined information for purposes not in the best interest of the nation.²²⁴

At one time Lake was so highly suspected of illegally passing secrets that his phone was tapped by the FBI.²²⁵ Additionally, Lake served as IPS man Morton Halperin's personal assistant.²²⁶ Halperin's anti-American fanaticism is outlined in detail later on in SECRET.

Stephen Solarz and IPS. While in Congress, CFR member Solarz favorably commented on IPS, and Solarz's aide, Suzanne Butcher, recommended IPS as a valued authority on human rights issues.²²⁷ Solarz also signed IPS leader Arnson's previously reviewed letter, with Panetta. No wonder Solarz is known as:

. . . That Marxist Representative from Brooklyn. . . who was deeply involved on the Sandinista side of the fight for Nicaragua. He also was . . . in the fight in El Salvador on the side of the communist element which was trying to overthrow the government. . . .²²⁸

Solarz has caused many good Americans a lot of grief. Example: Solarz was instrumental in defeating a Congressional bill authorizing a special commission to subpoena government witnesses and compel them to testify under oath regarding the POW-MIA cover up.

Clinton appointee Stephen Solarz failed to pass the FBI's background security check, and was denied ambassadorial appointment!

Likewise, when Colonel Millard A. Peck (Defense Intelligence Agency's Chief of the Special Office for POW-MIA) abruptly resigned and testified before Congress regarding the cover-up scandal, Solarz puckishly discounted Peck's testimony and character.²²⁹

After losing his Congressional seat due to patriotic Hispanic voters in New York who rejected him in his new district, Solarz presented himself to Clinton for a job. Clinton first considered Solarz for

Secretary of State,²³⁰ but then rejected him. Next, Clinton mulled over the possibility of appointing Solarz Ambassador to the UN, but flunked him out of that position also. Finally, Clinton shuffled Solarz off as Ambassador to India, but Solarz flunked the FBI's background check;²³¹ proving himself unworthy to even be sent to the dung-filled streets of Calcutta!

Timothy Wirth and IPS. Clinton considered CFR member Wirth for Secretary of Interior²³² before settling him at the State Department.²³³ He is now Undersecretary of State and also heads a UN population conference--where the central decorative piece in his office is a sterling silver bowl heaped with condoms.²³⁴

Wirth was also listed in IPS's twentieth-anniversary brochure as a member of the planning committee, along with Panetta and Aspin. Wirth worked with Patricia Schroeder on IPS man Gar Alperovitz's Economic Democracy efforts, and Wirth signed IPS leader Arnson's letter along with Solarz and Panetta.

Clinton appointee Timothy Wirth is such an ardent supporter of IPS that he helped IPS throw a twentieth-anniversary fund raising party for itself. The central decorative piece in his office is a silver bowl heaped with condoms.

Wirth has regularly supported IPS's agenda.²³⁵ Wirth's aides even brag that IPS man Steve Daggett helped Wirth's Congressional staff formulate opinions on defense spending.²³⁶

Patricia Schroeder and IPS. Clinton considered CFR member Schroeder for Secretary of Defense.²³⁷ Like Aspin, Panetta and Wirth, Schroeder also helped organize IPS's twentieth-anniversary bash; and Schroeder signed IPS leader Arnson's letter with Panetta, Solarz and Wirth.

Schroeder also followed IPS's demands and voted against the Intelligence Agents Identities Act, designed to prevent more "Philip Agee types" from publishing the names and imperiling additional U.S. agents after Welch was murdered. Additionally, Schroeder has hosted delegates from the World Peace Council (WPC),²³⁸ which has strong ties to IPS,²³⁹ and which has been categorized by U.S. Intelligence as, ". . . The largest and most active Soviet international front organization...one of the Soviet's major instruments for political actions and propaganda in the peace movement."²⁴⁰

Schroeder, like Wirth, is also listed as a supporter of IPS man Gar Alperovitz's program to promote Shearer's Economic Democracy plan;²⁴¹ and Schroeder spearheaded an anti-defense briefing on May 5, 1981 whose featured speakers included IPS's pro-Marxist co-founder Richard Barnet and Italian Communist Party member Nino Pasti.²⁴² Asked about her unseemly flirtations with IPS, Schroeder quipped to the New York Times, "It's refreshing to have several points of view."²⁴³

API/Wide World Photos

Like Solarz, Schroeder is no friend of the families of our POWs and MIAs. In fact, Schroeder is known among POW-MIA activists as one of the liberals who helped turn the House Select Committee on Missing Persons in Southeast Asia

Morton Halperin, KGB Agent Agee and IPS. Soon after IPS-supporter and CFR member Les Aspin was appointed Secretary of Defense, he appointed IPS leader and CFR member Morton Halperin Assistant Secretary of Defense for Democracy and Peacekeeping. Halperin appears to be just the man Aspin needed to help him kill SDI, deactivate 25% of Army personnel, 25% of all Naval vessels, and 33% of the Air Force as Aspin has proposed. ²⁴⁵ As one reporter bemoaned, Halperin's history is replete:

. . . With anti-American positions while aligning himself with Red regimes--for example, saying that 'every action which the Soviet Union and Cuba have taken in Africa has been consistent with the principles of international law. . . .' He barely disguises his call for the surrender of American sovereignty.... Halperin has . . . been one of the foremost plotters behind [Clinton's] PPD-13, the directive to hand over U.S. troops to the command of the United Nations. ²⁴⁶

Another authority wrote, "Analysis of Halperin's writings and testimonies reveals a continuing advocacy of weakening U.S. intelligence capabilities and ignoring the vast intelligence, espionage, and intrigues of the KGB." ²⁴⁷ The following table of Halperin's recreant transgressions will help explain why he has been so sorely characterized by political observers:

At IPS's behest, served as KGB agent Agee's lawyer when Agee was deported for espionage which resulted in the death of allied agents. ²⁴⁸

Wrote: "The point here is not whether the assassins learned of Welch's identity because of the CounterSpy article.... The point is . . . the CIA engaged in news management immediately after his death to make a political point." ²⁴⁹

During Vietnam War, grew antagonistic toward Defense Department. Suspected of leaking classified military information and was subject of government phone tap. ²⁵²

Scandalized when friend Daniel Ellsberg stole and (with IPS collaboration) leaked the Pentagon Papers. ²⁵³

Served as Chairman of IPS's Center for National Security Studies (CNSS) seminar where he lured intelligence officials under the pretext of conducting a dialogue, then promptly loosed IPS men on them who heckled, insulted, slandered and harassed the officials. ²⁵⁴

Helped form Campaign for Political Rights (CPR) which was instrumental in crippling local, State and Federal law enforcement agencies by encouraging activists to file superfluous yet time-consuming Information requests. ²⁵⁵

"By their own admission, [Halperin's] CPR and CNSS did much to block repeal of the Clark Amendment, which prohibited the CIA from aiding Savimbi's UNITA in fighting the Soviet-backed MPLA in Angola. And [Halperin's] CPR boasts that its 'special assistance with the press, organizing and publicity' were responsible for overturning the Blitz Amendment, which could have kept persons who advocated revolutionary change from participating in federal job-training (CETA) programs." ²⁵⁶

On January 10, 1994 (shortly after copies of SECRET were sent to Senators opposing Halperin's confirmation) Halperin suddenly withdrew his nomination as Assistant Secretary of Defense. According to media quotes, he did so due to the growing fire storm of protest over his radical affiliations. However, soon thereafter Halperin resurfaced at the National Security Council. ²⁵⁷

Robert Reich and IPS. A full thirteen months prior to the 1992 election, a conglomerate of leftists calling themselves the Citizens Transition Project commenced writing a book which they hoped they could soon personally deliver to a new President who would appreciate their fringe ideology. They got their wish.

The book's title is, Changing America: Blue Prints for the New Administration--a copy of which (including a full chapter on socializing health care) was delivered to President-elect Bill Clinton on November 4, 1992.

Among the book's funders was IPS proprietor Cora Weiss' Samuel Rubin Foundation. Among the authors were Cora Weiss, IPS member Jeff Faux, IPS Director Robert Borosage, Clinton buddy Derek Shearer of IPS, and soon-to-be Secretary of Labor, Robert Reich!²⁵⁸

Due to Clinton's election, IPS man Morton Halperin (KGB agent Agee's lawyer) now works at the National Security Council.

Edward F. Feighan, Trotskyite Marxists and IPS. Edward Feighan (D-OH, Ret.) was Clinton's campaign Communications Director.²⁵⁹ In addition to signing IPS leader Amson's letter with Solarz, Schroeder, Wirth and Panetta, Feighan has ties to IPS and various other Marxist entities through the Center for Developmental Policy (CDP) and the North American Congress on Latin America (NACLA). From its founding, NACLA:

... Has worked closely with IPS. It soon became known as the preeminent American source of solidarity information on guerrilla movements in Latin America.²⁶⁰

Cofounded by self-styled Trotskyite Marxist John Gerassi²⁶¹ and Michael Locker of Castro's Venceremos Brigade,²⁶² NACLA has received major influxes of money from IPS leader Cora Weiss' Rubin Foundation.²⁶³ NACLA started out as the, "intelligence-gathering arm of the New Left,"²⁶⁴ but soon switched to being a direct support group for Marxist insurgences worldwide. NACLA declared:

[We seek] men and women . . . who not only favor revolutionary change in Latin America but also take a revolutionary position toward their own society. . . . In the context of this...revolutionary struggle at home, NACLA is exploring possibilities for . . . relations with [revolutionary] Latin American organizations. . . .²⁶⁵

Gerassi has proposed NACLA start, ". . . A 'Revolutionary Peace Corps' . . . to send young Americans to work with leftist Latin American guerrillas. . . ." who would link up with, ". . . National liberation forces wherever they are."²⁶⁶ Indeed, Locker bragged that those he was working with, "Knew what Marxism was all about. . . ."²⁶⁷ and claimed that his respect for Marxism has grown over time:

How sophisticated were we? We knew what power structures were about, but as a systematic understanding, no [we really didn't understand Marxism completely]. At the beginning, for example, we didn't use the word 'imperialism'. . . . It was only in the early '70's that [our] people seriously got into studying Marxism.²⁶⁸

In 1983, NACLA's vice president Janet Shenk escorted Feighan to Central America on a fact-finding tour.²⁶⁹ Returning, the indoctrinated Feighan spouted demands that Congress halt aid to El Salvador's anti-communist government²⁷⁰ and fumed:

... The . . . statement by President Reagan [on Central America] is a gross misrepresentation to the U.S. Congress [and] an indefensible deceit upon the American people. . . .²⁷¹

Feighan is also linked to IPS through the Center for Developmental Policy (CDP), which sponsored his trip to Central America. The CDP was formed in 1977 by Lindsay Mattison²⁷² who was a contemporary of Cuban spy/IPS man Orlando Letelier.²⁷³ It has been observed:

CDP and IPS participate fully in each other's activities. CDP has been extremely successful in organizing disaffected U.S. officials and military personally and arranging opportunities for them to testify before Congress, with full press coverage.... CDP has become a leader in the revolutionary Latin lobby on Capitol Hill, with Congress and the media as its targets. Over the years CDP has been funded by the same sources as IPS . . . [including] a well-known Communist party source, the Bread and Roses Fund. . . .²⁷⁴

Early CDP leaders included IPS members Isabel Letelier (Cuban spy Orlando's wife), Michael Klare, IPS letter-writer Cynthia Arnson, and IPS trustee Philip Stern;²⁷⁵ as well as the previously critiqued IPS member, KGB agent I.F. Stone.

Clinton's campaign Communications Director, Ed Feighan, is placed not only with IPS but NACLA--a revolutionary group led by a Trotskyite Marxist.

Another important link between IPS and CDP is through IPS man Fred Branfman who served as one of CDP's first Directors.²⁷⁶ Branfman is a former CounterSpy editorial board member and colleague of Soviet KGB agent Agee. The CDP sponsored Feighan's indoctrination trip to Central America--making him just the type of man candidate Clinton needed during his propaganda machine.

Robert Pastor, Nicaraguan Communists and IPS. Bill Pascoe, Legislative Director of the American Conservative Union and contributing writer for the Washington Times reveals:

Before the Senate adjourns . . . it should reject the nomination of Robert A. Pastor to be U.S. ambassador to Panama.

Recently declassified Carter-era documents make clear Mr. Pastor is unfit to serve. For the documents demonstrate that 14 years ago Mr. Pastor--who served as Jimmy Carter's senior NSC advisor on Latin American Affairs--conspired to mislead the Congress.

The issue at question is the September 1980 presidential certification of Nicaragua. Congress had authorized economic aid to the fledgling Sandinista government, but was concerned enough about Nicaraguan support for communist revolutionaries in neighboring El Salvador that it attached a condition: Before the aid could be disbursed, the president would have to certify to Congress that the government of Nicaragua was not supporting terrorism in other countries.

President Carter made that [erroneous] certification on Pastor's recommendation. But the documents make clear Mr. Carter did so despite CIA and DIA evidence to the contrary. . . . The newly declassified documents show Mr. Pastor's role clearly. . . .

Did Mr. Pastor deliberately misstate the truth and cover up his own role in a 14-year-old conspiracy to mislead Congress?

. . . Robert Pastor . . . did everything he could to bring the Nicaraguan communists to power and then assist them²⁷⁷

This same Robert Pastor has a history of supporting various Central American communists--along with IPS. For example, in September 1981 Pastor joined IPS co-founder Richard Barnet in a Capitol Hill symposium sponsored by the IPS-spinoff group, the Center for Cuban Studies. At that symposium, titled, "The U.S. and Cuba: Prospects for the 80's," Pastor and his IPS comrades predictably painted Castro's regime in the best way while excoriating American foreign policy.²⁷⁸

Worse, Pastor helped IPS produce a study called The Southern Connection which was patently anti-American and pro-communistic in nature. That skewed study touted that America's claim to moral superiority in the face of Central American communism was, "morally unacceptable;" and it blamed all of Central America's human rights problems solely on U.S. capitalism and the "virulent anticommunism" of our people.²⁷⁹

Mario Cuomo and IPS. New York's liberal Governor Cuomo was suggested by Bill Clinton as his foremost candidate for the Supreme Court.²⁸⁰ CFR member Cuomo sided with IPS's position during an important anti-industry battle; a description of which follows.

In 1978, Michael Harrington (founder of the Democratic Socialist Organizing Committee) and William Winpisinger (a self-described "seat-of-the-pants-socialist") formed the Citizen/Labor Energy Coalition (C/LEC).²⁸¹

From the beginning the organizers made it clear that its purpose was to use energy policy as a tool to move the Democratic party and, eventually, the country to the left politically.²⁸²

One of Winpisinger and Harrington's first goals was to work with IPS to move control of the energy industries out of private hands and into the government's hands so the cause of American Socialism could be advanced. Winpisinger (in IPS's own newspaper) and Harrington respectively state:

Energy supplies and prices are too important to leave in corporate hands. Both must be controlled by the government.²⁸³

As socialists of the democratic left, we stand for fundamental change, for socialism, and for every immediate gain which can be achieved by the . . . movement in which we participate, the unions, minority and women's organizations, the student movement, the liberal wing of the Democratic party among them.²⁸⁴

Although socialist and statist at heart, C/LEC painted itself to the public as a consumer interest group. By such mechanizations they garnered popular support and succeeded in hampering, legislatively binding and reducing the profits of numerous U.S. energy firms. Helping them all the way was IPS and the editors of the communist newspaper, [Peoples] Daily World.²⁸⁵

As a result of over regulation (due in great part to C/LEC's activism), increasing numbers of electric utilities are now facing bankruptcy even as they are forced to raise their rates--an event not seen since the Great Depression. Concern for these U.S. companies and the citizens who stand to lose their jobs when the utilities close down is rarely manifested among C/LEC's supporters. As Mario Cuomo grumped upon hearing that Long Island Lighting was in financial trouble, "Let them take a bath . . . They're a private corporation."²⁸⁶

Sam Brown, Vietnamese Communists and IPS. Earlier in SECRET, it was revealed that Sam Brown had worked with IPS, Communist Party member Barbara Bick and Clinton-buddy Derek Shearer in supporting Economic Democracy. Now it is revealed that Clinton chose this same radical for a sensitive government post:

Senator Jesse Helms. . . . found out about Clinton's plan to slip a . . . bona fide . . . Marxist into a position as Ambassador to the Conference on Security and Cooperation in Europe (CSCE). This agency was set up in the wake of the Helsinki Treaty to monitor human rights abuses behind the Iron Curtain. His name is Sam Brown, and he was the leader of the New Left anti-Vietnam protesters in the mid-1960's and early 1970's. He was the rat who had his followers fly Vietnamese flags during their marches . . . he even admitted that he would welcome a Viet Cong victory. . . . He worked with the Institute for Policy Studies. . . . In September 25, 1977, he turned out to welcome Communist Vietnam's new delegation to the United States in what was described as an 'explosion of emotion.' During the celebration of welcome for the Vietnam communists, Sam Brown said, 'I'm deeply moved. It's difficult to describe my feelings--what can you say when the kinds of things that 15 years of your life were wrapped up in are suddenly before you? I believe we ought to aid the Vietnamese. . . .

Even liberal CBS commentator Eric Sevareid condemned Sam Brown for his part in greeting the Vietnamese [communists].²⁸⁷

After Sunset Research group sent a copy of SECRET to Senator Helms (who opposed Brown's confirmation) Brown was disqualified.

Clinton's Ambassadorial appointee Sam Brown has a long history of carrying communist flags, cheering for communist victories, and working for Communist Party members on anti-American projects.

Joseph Duffy and IPS. Clinton appointed Joseph Duffy to head the United States Information Agency which sponsors Voice of America radio broadcasts worldwide. Asked about his politics, Duffy told two British journalists, "I guess you could say I'm a Marxist revisionist, but certainly not a Maoist."²⁸⁸

Duffy has funneled tax dollars to the radical peace group, SANE,²⁸⁹ whose director is IPS man David Cortwright, and whose Executive Director is IPS man Marcus Raskin.²⁹⁰ Duffy also led the radical Americans for Democratic Action,²⁹¹ which IPS was instrumental in organizing.²⁹²

Walter Mondale and IPS. Bill Clinton resurrected Jimmy Carter's vice-president, CFR member Walter Mondale, to serve as Ambassador to Japan.²⁹³ Aside from the political fallout of that appointment (Mondale was a bomber pilot in WWII, a fact that older Japanese may not find amusing), there are also facts to consider regarding Mondale's relationship to IPS.

When Carter took office in January 1977 he tasked Mondale with reforming the CIA. Mondale, who had been one of the CIA's most vocal critics, proceeded to "reform" the CIA by ruling that the CIA could not spy on foreigners in the U.S. unless it could be proven that those to be spied on intended to break Federal law in the future--a preposterous requirement! Additionally, Mondale oversaw the firing of over 800 of our foreign spies--just in time for the intelligence community to be caught flat footed by the "surprise" Soviet invasion of Afghanistan and the Iranian Crisis! Mondale's bizarre edicts at the worst possible moment are probably due to his association with IPS.

²⁹² IPS Annual Report, 1983, p. 3.

²⁹³ The New American, February 7, 1994, p. 27.

While a Senator, Mondale served on the Church Senate Intelligence Committee--a group famous for its anti-intelligence, left-wing bias. Mondale's personal assistant there was David Aaron of the Center for International Policy (CIP)--one of many CIP members on the Church Committee. The CIP, it should be remembered, is an IPS spin-off group formed under the direction of Cuban spy Orlando Letelier which retained IPS co-founder Richard Barnet as a consultant.

As Vice-President, Mondale looked up his old IPS/Church Committee buddy, Aaron, and named him to the National Security Council (NSC) to help Mondale "reform" the CIA. Aaron in turn hired two more Church Committee buddies to help him carry out Mondale's mandate at the NSC. These two men were Rick Inderfurth and Gregory Treverton---themselves pals of Letelier.

Worse, while "reforming" the CIA, Mondale also sought the advice of the Center for National Security Studies (CNSS)--another IPS sub-group whose network included traitor and Cuban communist Agee, as well as CounterSpy editorial personnel.²⁹⁴ Mondale's actions resulted more in the castration of the CIA, rather than its reform.

William Green Miller and IPS. Bill Clinton appointed CFR member Miller as Ambassador to the Ukraine.²⁹⁵ Miller was a member of the IPS-tainted Church Committee and was also a member of IPS's Center for International Policy (CIP);²⁹⁶ both of which were reviewed in the section above on Walter Mondale.

Jane Fonda and IPS. Fonda, whose communist and IPS relationships were scrutinized earlier in SECRET, has been named by Bill Clinton as America's Goodwill Ambassador to the United Nations Population Fund. Her duties there will mainly be to give a pretty face to the ugly job of global abortion advocacy and world-wide condom distribution.

However ugly her job, Fonda will have plenty of money to accomplish it--$500 million in 1994 American tax dollars alone; and she will have plenty of help--as Red China's program of forced-abortion-at-gunpoint has been repeatedly touted at the UN as the preferable method for all nations to follow.

At a September 20, 1993 speech at the UN, Fonda there stumped for "safe abortion." It is, "unconscionable" asserted Fonda, ". . . That we aren't doing more to prevent unwanted children from being born." Aside from the fact that many women (and not a few fetuses) have found abortion anything but "safe," Fonda's inference that rampaging hordes of unwanted children are a threat to the World Community is bogus; the lists of parents wishing to adopt newborn babies are years-long and growing.

"I would think that, if you understood what communism was, you would hope, you would pray on your knees that we would become communist."

--(Ambassador) Jane Fonda

Nevertheless, at the February 3, 1994, National Prayer Breakfast for Washington dignitaries, Mother Teresa stood on the rostrum and offered Bill and Hillary Clinton an alternative to glamorizing abortion. She stated:

If we accept that a mother can kill her own child, how can we tell other people not to kill each other? Any country that accepts abortion is not teaching its people to love but to use any violence to get what they want. . . . I am willing to accept any child who would be aborted and to give that child to a married couple who will love that child and be loved by that child.²⁹⁷

As the audience exploded in riotous applause, the television cameras panned back to show everyone at the head table enthusiastically clapping--everyone except Bill and Hillary Clinton, that is--who with ashen, poker faces appeared mortified by the 83-year-old social worker's solution to UN Ambassador Jane Fonda's problem of how to best dispose of "unwanted children."²⁹⁸

Warren Christopher and IPS. Clinton's Secretary of State, CFR member Warren Christopher, lead a group of liberal activists during the Carter administration who dubbed themselves the Christopher Group.

. . . The Christopher Group. . . had intimate ties with the radical left Institute for Policy Studies (IPS) and its Transnational Institution (TNI) which was led by . . . [Cuban spy] Orlando Letelier.²⁹⁹

Johnetta Cole, Fidel Castro and IPS. Cole, whom Clinton appointed to head a "cluster group" [just under Cabinet level] over Education, Arts, Labor and Humanities,³⁰⁰ has close ties to IPS and other Communist Party sources.

When famed Communist Party member Sandy Pollack died in a Cuban plane crash, Cole joined other world famous Marxists on the rostrum to bid tearful farewells to their fallen Comrade. At that ceremony Cole stood shoulder to shoulder and shared praises for "Sandy" with IPS, the National Chairman of the Communist Party USA, the PLO, Soviet U.N. ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin, Soviet Peace Committee president Yuri Zhukov, the second secretary of Czechoslovakia, the third secretary of East Germany, the East German ambassador extraordinary and plenipotentiary, representatives from Vietnam and North Korea, the Sandinista Directorate Commandante, the Nicaraguan ambassador, the first secretary of the Cuban Interests Section, and a member of Cuba's Central Committee of the Communist Party.³⁰¹

Johnetta Cole was as a leader in Castro's Venceremos Brigade and has personally supported communist dictators worldwide.

SECRET offered earlier proof of IPS man Landau's support for communism, including his service in Castro's VB. Pollack accompanied Landau to Cuba to join the VB,³⁰² and Johnetta Cole soon followed that duo to Cuba to serve in the VB with them and help lead it. Columnist Eric Breindel recently verified this fact, writing that Johnetta Cole:

" . . . Had exceedingly close ties to the American Communist movement in the 1970s and 1980s. And there's no evidence that she ever experienced an ideological change of heart.

Cole . . . played a leadership role in the pro-Castro Venceremos Brigade--which was controlled by the Communist Party USA in conjunction with Havana--and she was a founding sponsor of the U.S. Peace Council, an important CPUSA front organization. Indeed, she's been active in a whole range of CP-dominated groups. . . . Cole backed Cuban intervention in Angola in 1976 and said so plainly at the time. She also indulged herself in pro-Castro hagiography on a number of occasions. One Cole essay carries the title: 'If it could happen in Cuba, then why not here?'

. . . When a group of former anti-war activists led by Joan Baez purchased an advertisement in the New York Times in mid-1979 to denounce Vietnam for holding thousands of political prisoners, Cole--along with a handful of CPUSA big shots--published a counter-advertisement. . . . In the letter/ad, Cole and her co-authors claimed that 'Vietnam now enjoys human rights as it has never known in history.'

As for political prisoners, Cole & Co. acknowledged that 'some 400,000 servants of the former barbaric regime were sent to re-education camps' and then asked rhetorically: 'Should they not be re-educated?' . . . In an edition of Human Events, Herbert Romerstein discussed Cole's pre-U.S. invasion ties to the pro-Cuba Maurice Bishop regime in Grenada. . . . The president-elect and his advisors [are] signaling that they aren't interested in distinguishing between a left-liberal and someone who has cast her lot with the cause of communist totalitarianism.

Such a message would have profound implications. The death of international communism hasn't generally been understood to mean that its sympathizers now have a place in the Democratic Party. After all, the demise of European fascism didn't confer political legitimacy on Americans who admired Hitler and Mussolini. . . . Creating a big tent is one thing. Making room for disciples of Fidel Castro is something else."³⁰³

This is the person Bill Clinton placed in charge of our Education, Arts, Labor and Humanities.

And a Host of Others... In addition to the persons previously named, it appears Bill Clinton has appointed a host of additional IPS activists to high government posts. Education Secretary Donna Shalala, Assistant Secretary of Defense John Shattuck, Robert Alvarez of the Energy Department and appointee Gordon Adams are all reportedly firmly linked to IPS. And intelligence reports indicate that Mr. Clinton is even considering, ". . . Bringing IPS co-founder Richard Barnet and IPS senior fellow Robert Borosage into the Administration."³⁰⁴

After Copies of SECRET were sent to the FBI, CIA, Secret Service and Congress, affiliation with IPS became an obstacle to Clinton appointees seeking confirmation. The appointments of Shearer, Sam Brown, Stephan Solarz and Morton Halperin appear to have been derailed due to their IPS-related activities.

Revelations of a communist-oriented IPS veteran (Derek Shearer) directly influencing Clinton, and Clinton entrusting the country's future to numerous IPS and Marxist activists is grim indeed; But there are many more such disturbing revelations yet to be fathomed. These additional evidences--which even more firmly cement Bill Clinton into the camp of IPS subversives--come through Hillary Clinton.

Hillary Clinton's Links to IPS and Marxist Terrorism

Hillary Clinton, America's first unelected and unaccountable "co-president," directs six Cabinet-level secretaries and a number of other White House advisors on a self-proclaimed jihad to Sovietize the nation's health care system.³⁰⁵ Such socialized medicine scams have long been a part of the agendas of IPS in general, and of Derek Shearer and his Economic Democracy crowd in particular.³⁰⁶

"Hillary bothers me a lot. I realized the other day that her thoughts sound a lot like Karl Marx. She hangs around a lot of Marxists. All her friends are Marxists."³⁰⁷

--Congressman Richard Armey (R-TX)

Hillary's first contact with IPS appears to have been at Yale, where between various liberal protest activities she served on the board of editors of the quarterly, Yale Review of Law and Social Action. The Spring 1970 issue which Hillary edited featured an article by IPS Director Robert Borosage. Another issue which she edited featured a subject near and dear to IPS--urging sympathetic understanding of Black Panthers then on trial for murder. That issue of the publication Hillary evidently edited featured:

Several drawings depict[ing] policemen as pigs. In one, rifle-toting, hairy-snouted pigs with nasal drip march in formation emitting 'oinks' and thinking to themselves, 'niggers, niggers, niggers, niggers. . . .' Another shows a decapitated and dismembered pig [police officer] squealing in agony. It is captioned, 'Seize the Time!'³⁰⁸

If the only links Hillary had to IPS were her close friendship with Derek Shearer's sister and her furrow-browed fling at Yale, such could appear quite incidental. But unfortunately, there is additional hard evidence which indicts Hillary as a motivated IPS champion. For example, while serving as Director and Chair of the Board of Directors of the New World Foundation in 1987-88, Hillary Clinton praised and gave away significant sums of money to several far left organizations--including IPS. Daniel Wattenberg observed:

There are those who would say of Hillary's involvement in radical politics, ³⁰⁶ Powell, op. cit., pp. 21, 237, 296 & 332.

³⁰⁷ Per Thomas R. Eddlem, "Marxist Hillary?" The New American, August 9, 1993, p. 17.

³⁰⁸ Wattenberg, op. cit., p. 28. Hillary's "Seize the Time" slogan was evidently taken from the title of a book by the same name which was authored by Black Panther and murder suspect Bobby Seale, who is featured later in SECRET--as are Hillary's additional links to the Black Panthers.

'Aw, she was just a kid.' But she wasn't just a kid. She was a middle aged woman of 40 when sponsoring the hard left from her perch at the New World Foundation.³⁰⁹

In addition to IPS, Hillary sent money to other pro-communist groups which themselves have strong ties to IPS--indicating a collaborative attempt for donations to serve similar purposes. These included the Committee in Support of the People of El Salvador (CISPES--a supporter of the Marxist Salvadoran guerrillas), the National Lawyers Guild (an officially cited adjunct of the Communist Party USA), militant William Kunstler's Center for Constitutional Studies, and the terroristic Christic Institute.³¹⁰

Hillary's support for communist guerrillas in Latin America has left the blood of many innocent people on her hands.

Information on some of the anti-American and pro-communist activities of these other groups Hillary supported, and some of their relationships to IPS, are explained below.

CISPES, Hillary and IPS. The Committee in Support of the People of El Salvador (CISPES), which Hillary dished out $5,000.00 to,³¹¹ has been classified as a communist front organization.³¹² Formed in 1980 as the U.S. branch of a worldwide apparatus supporting Marxist FMLN guerrillas in El Salvador, insight into CISPES's function with Latin American communist rebels and the international communist movement was gained in 1981 when the personal papers of guerrilla leader Farid Handal were captured in El Salvador.³¹³

CISPES's founders include Farid Handel (brother of El Salvador's Communist Party Chief Shafik Handel),³¹⁴ Cuban spy Orlando Letelier's wife, Isabel, of IPS,³¹⁵ and Sandy Pollack of the Communist Party.³¹⁶ Pollack later died in a Cuban air crash. At her memorial service these words by

Joe Cortina

The FMLN communists Hillary funded through CISPES planted Soviet mines disguised as toys configured to cripple rather than kill children--forcing parents to cease resistance efforts and care for their maimed children.

Intelligence expert Joe Cortina, himself a veteran of the U.S. Special Forces group which helped Central American peasants fight the communists Hillary funded, was recently interviewed regarding Hillary's support for these communist terrorists:

'People need to understand . . . what Mrs. Clinton has done in supporting the FMLN.... This is a full-fledged terrorist group that has killed and mutilated little children.' Like the Soviet occupation army in Afghanistan, the Salvadoran Marxists favored the use of disguised 'anti-personnel' mines [which looked like toys] that were frequently set off by unsuspecting children. 'I've been in Salvadoran hospitals and seen children who are missing arms and legs,' says Cortina. Although the . . . grant approved by Mrs. Clinton amounts to a mere pittance, Cortina ruefully observes, 'You can maim a lot of kids for $5,000.' ³¹⁸

The National Lawyers Guild, Hillary and IPS. The Government has repeatedly condemned the NLG (which Hillary lavished $15,000.00 on) ³¹⁹ as being a "Communist front" group. One such finding charged that the NLG:

. . . Is the foremost legal bulwark of the Communist Party [and] its front organizations . . . [which] since its inception has never failed to rally to the legal defense of the Communist Party and individual members thereof, including known espionage agents. ³²⁰

For example, at the close of one NLG convention in Austin, Texas, the delegates sang the famed Communist "Internationale" anthem, whose lyrics include the verse, "Tis the final conflict, let each stand his place. The International Soviet shall be the Human Race." ³²¹ No wonder moderates within the NLG have accused their leaders of conducting, "Guild affairs as though we were a committed Marxist-Leninist entity." ³²²

IPS Chairman Peter Weiss served for years on the NLG's board of trustees. ³²³ IPS has received monies from the Rabinowitz Foundation, whose Director Victor Rabinowitz has served as NLG President, ³²⁴ and whose lawfirm has extraordinary ties with communists across the hemisphere. ³²⁵ Also, IPS cofounder Richard Barnet claims his wartime trip to aid Hanoi was made possible due to assistance from the NLG. ³²⁶

In 1972, Marcus Raskin (IPS), Ralph Stavens (IPS & NLG), Robert Borosage (IPS & NLG) and George Pipkin (IPS) founded an IPS research project called the Project on National Security³²⁷ which was evidently designed to cripple U.S. Intelligence services.³²⁸ A spinoff of that project was the Government Accountability Project (GAP) which served more to harass officials and create scandals than to encourage accountability. GAP's Director, IPS man Ralph Stavens, was also a member of the NLG.³²⁹ These are just a few of the relationships between IPS and the NLG; both of which Hillary funded.

At an NLG convention in Austin, Texas the delegates sang the Communist "Internationale" anthem, whose lyrics include the verse "Tis the final conflict, let each stand his place. The International Soviet shall be the Human Race!"

William Kunstler, Hillary and IPS. No discussion of the NLG would be complete without reference to William Kunstler, perhaps the most radical esquire within that organization. Hillary is linked to Kunstler by not only funding the NLG which Kunstler has held membership in, but by funding the benignly-named Center for Constitutional Studies which Kunstler cofounded.³³⁰

On March 25, 1993, ABC featured an expose' of Kunstler on their "Prime Time Live" broadcast entitled, "The Most Hated Lawyer in America." Footage was there shown of Kunstler committing such acts as giving a speech in front of the Soviet flag while American communists cheered, explaining why he thought the assassination of Bobby and John F. Kennedy were commendable, applauding a murderer who killed five policemen, and pronouncing why he was looking forward to defending those charged with the 1993 terror bombing of the World Trade Center in New York.

Following are excerpts from a biographical sketch on Mr. Kunstler which appears in Francis X. Gannon's Biographical Dictionary of the Left,³³¹ which gives additional insight into this man. Footnotes attached to personalities and organizations appearing in this Kunstler biography reveal how closely he is tied to IPS, and how many of Kunstler's associates are themselves related to IPS and other subversive or Marxist-terrorist operations:

In 1961, Kunstler embarked on a career of revolutionary political . . . agitation. Within a decade his legal clients included such racist agitators as . . . Stokely Carmichael³³² . . . H. Rap Brown,³³³ and such radical revolutionaries as Abbie Hoffman,³³⁴ Jerry Rubin,³³⁵ and David Dellinger.³³⁶ Kunstler's affiliations have included the Citizens Committee for Constitutional Liberties³³⁷ . . . the National Committee to Abolish the House Un-American Activities Committee³³⁸ . . . the Emergency Civil Liberties Committee³³⁹ . . . and the Committee to Secure Justice for Morton Sobell. . . .³⁴⁰

By 1965, Kunstler . . . was a featured speaker at the Communists' National Guardian seventeenth-anniversary dinner. . . .³⁴¹ Kunstler has been counsel for Students for a Democratic Society,³⁴² the Black Panthers, and the W.E.B.

³³² Carmichael's connections to IPS and Castro were reviewed earlier in this booklet in the section on Tom Hayden.

³³³ While awaiting trial for robbery and assault, Brown's personal secretary Jean Wiley found full time employment at IPS. While there, she lent her car to one of Brown's militant cohorts who loaded it with TNT and departed IPS for destinations unknown. Near Bel Air, Maryland, the explosives accidentally detonated, vaporizing vehicle and occupants (Powell, op. cit., p. 30).

³³⁴ Key lieutenant in the 1968 Chicago riots which IPS leader Weiss helped orchestrate (Powell, op. cit., p. 32).

³³⁵ Attended IPS strategy sessions (Powell, op. cit., p. 29).

³³⁸ U.S. House of Representatives declared NCAUAC was set up, "... To lead and direct the Communist Party's 'Operation Abolition' campaign Seven of the national leaders of this group have been identified as Communists." (House of Representatives, op. cit., p. 115).

³³⁹ U.S. House of Representatives declared ECLC a "Communist front" group whose purpose is to discredit the FBI and disseminate, "Communist propaganda material." ECLC leader Frank Wilkinson was identified before Congress by an undercover FBI agent as a Communist Party member (U.S. House of Representatives, op. cit., pp. 69-70). ECLC was headed by Kunstler and IPS Chairman Peter Weiss.

³⁴⁰ U.S. House of Representatives declared CSJMS a "Communist front" group dedicated to freeing Morton Sobell, codefendant in the nuclear espionage case against Ethel and Julius Rosenberg who were executed as spies (House of Representatives, op. cit., p. 116).

³⁴¹ National Guardian was a radical publication which, "... Has manifested itself from the beginning as a virtual official propaganda arm of Soviet Russia" (U.S. House of Representatives, op. cit., p. 193).

DuBois Clubs,³⁴³ all of which are firmly entrenched in the militant left. . . .³⁴⁴ In 1969 and 1970, Kunstler was a defense attorney in the trial of the 'Chicago Seven,' who were charged with traveling in interstate commerce to incite a riot at the 1968 Democratic National Convention in Chicago.³⁴⁵ The conduct of Kunstler during the course of the trial led to his being sentenced to four years and thirteen days for contempt of court. After sentence was passed, Kunstler--out on bail, began speaking to collegiate and other audiences about the country. In the wake of his appearances, violent demonstrations occurred. In Santa Barbara, California, within hours after Kunstler spoke at the local campus of the University of California, a branch of the Bank of America in Santa Barbara was burned to the ground by a mob of students. Kunstler, in a speech to five thousand students, had called upon his audience to make the 'Chicago Seven' a symbol. . . . The students responded to Kunstler's harangue with four nights of riots that were subdued only after five hundred national guardsmen, armed with rifles and fixed bayonets, were placed on duty. . . .

[Of Black Panther Bobby Seale's murder-conspiracy trial,³⁴⁶ Kunstler declared] 'Bobby Seale's trial poses a severe test for young people because it will have an aura of death about it. If Bobby is sentenced to death that is the signal that resistance is going to be paid for by death. . . . It is a day for resistance. . . . If that doesn't bring a response you go on to revolution.'

Mr. Kunstler can be counted on to uglify America while blessing outrages committed by communist regimes. For instance, in addition to cheering the murder of five police officers during his ³⁴³ Named for famous American Communist W.E.B. DuBois, the DuBois School of Marxist Studies is a Communist front group. Directed by IPS member Alfred Henley, it also received IPS sponsorship for weekly classes featuring IPS speakers such as Henley and Karl Hess (Powell, op. cit., p. 31). School literature declares, ". . . The most urgent requirement at the present time . . . is to organize the people and to spread as widely as possible a knowledge of Marxism as the Science of Social Change" (W.E.B. DuBois School of Marxist Studies: Catalog, Spring, 1971).

³⁴⁴ W.E.B. DuBois applied for U.S. Communist Party membership in an Oct. 1, 1961 letter to Gus Hall, stating: "In the end Communism will triumph. I want to help to bring about that day." Awarded both the Lenin Peace Prize and the Peace Prize by the Moscow-directed World Peace Congress. In Red China he was given a hero's welcome and treated his hosts to a reading of the poem, "I Sing to China" which urged destruction of, "religion and church," and insists, "No Christ.... What China worships is a man." When Ghana was led by communist dictator Kwame Nkrumah, DuBois visited and published in their leading newspaper, "...Let Ghana join the Soviet Union and China and usher in the new world" (John F. McManus, "Honoring An Enemy," The New American, April 20, 1992, p. 44).

³⁴⁵ IPS proprietor Cora Weiss formed the 'Committee to Defend the Conspiracy' and hired Kunstler to free the seven arrested "Conspiracy" leaders of the Chicago riot; which included her husband, IPS Chairman Peter Weiss (Powell, op. cit., p. 32) and the previously critiqued Tom Hayden (Bennett and DiLorenzo, op. cit., p. 61).

recent "Prime Time Live" interview, he earlier rejoiced over the murder of another U.S. cop:

In my opinion he deserved that death . . . the crowd justifiably, without the necessity of a trial and in the most dramatic way possible, stomped him to death.³⁴⁷

Kunstler is much more accommodating toward communist security forces, offering pietistic excuses when North Vietnamese cops force anti-communists to stomp around old battlegrounds to clear out forgotten minefields.³⁴⁸

When Southeast Asia's despots commenced their internal holocaust, causing hundreds of thousands to risk death on the high seas rather than submit to tyranny, Kunstler chose not to blame the communists, but America, revealing, ". . . He sympathizes with the plight of the boat people but added that the problem is inevitable following the massive upheaval created by the US. . . ." ³⁴⁹

Given yet another chance to set the record straight on atrocities in communist lands, Kunstler chose instead to assert, "I don't believe in public attacks on socialist countries where violations of human rights may occur."³⁵⁰

Hillary gave money to a man who made a speech beneath the Soviet flag to cheering communists, who endorsed the murder of 5 policemen and who applauds the assassination of President Kennedy.

The Christic Institute, Hillary & IPS. This organization, which Hillary doled $20,000.00 to,³⁵¹ specializes in coordinating lawsuits aimed at paralyzing and bankrupting American patriots who are active in anti-communist endeavors; patriots such as General John K. Singlaub and Major General Richard Secord.³⁵² Regarding the Christics, Dr. Susan Huck, Congressman Robert K. Dornan and the New York Times respectively state:

The Christic Institute is simply another arm of the very large radical incubus in America. The Christics are engaged in the same basic effort as the Institute for Policy Studies.³⁵³

The Christic Institute's brand of legal terrorism will continue until Congress corrects the current flaws in RICO [laws].³⁵⁴

Federal Agents, United States prosecutors and spokesmen for the CIA have characterized the [Christic law] suit as a political fantasy.³⁵⁵

The Christics have received significant amounts of money from IPS leader Cora Weiss' Rubin Foundation; and they and IPS also share financial links through the Bydale and the Charles Stewart Mott Foundations;³⁵⁶ as well as both receiving significant funds through Hillary. Dr. Huck continues:

They [Christics] admit to collaboration with the Communists, and freely express their determination to protect the Communist government of Nicaragua. What they really want to 'punish' is vigorous opposition to Communism. . . . The rest of the world aches and cries for the opportunity to rid itself of Communist rule, while certain citizens of the freest society on earth bend every effort to preserving and extending that rule.

Such are the objectives of the alliance of some fifty leftist groups in Washington. . . . The [anti-Communist] contras were destroyed by this alliance. . . . Another loss, another stain, another army abandoned in the field. The Christics are proud to be a part of that. . . . What we see are two different sets of values in conflict, two views of the world, and, almost literally, two different generations, with the younger attacking the older.

We have seen the men who fought for the United States--in World War II, in Korea, and in Vietnam--harassed and smeared in retirement by those who refused to fight.

We have seen the courageous bushwhacked by men who have avoided, at all costs, the tests of manhood.

We have seen the loyal savaged, in the courts and in the media, by those who spend their time, in the words of Article III, Section 3 of the U.S. Constitution, 'adhering to the enemy, giving aid and comfort.' Treason, we note, is the only crime defined in the Constitution. . . . It comes down to that.

What did Hillary's IPS donations pay for? Marxist assassins? Fleeing traitors? Flag burners? Terrorist bombings? Communist insurgencies? Hard-core pornography?

Hillary's Marxist-Terrorist Activities Are Relevant

Hillary reveals she gave money to the aforementioned entities because they were, "progressive activist organizations."³⁵⁷ Such a declaration indicates Hillary researched these entities and agrees with them. Wattenberg writes:

Moreover she has not . . . publicly repudiated or even distanced herself from the views or activism described in this article, and her husband's presidential campaign was the perfect occasion to do so. There is no reason she ought to be forgiven, when she hasn't repented. Especially since she is right now doing her utmost to drive her husband's campaign into her own corner of the Democratic party, where the liberal left and the radical left meet.³⁵⁸

Perhaps one reason so many Marxist/IPS comrades are appearing in the Clinton camp is that Hillary not only evidently supports their agendas, but has assumed the authority to tell Bill which persons to place in important government posts:

Clinton is reaching his [cabinet] decisions . . . in the seclusion of the Governor's Mansion.... According to those familiar with the process, the personnel interviews are being conducted by Clinton . . . [and] Hillary. . . .³⁵⁹

Charen replied, "No, it's based on her foundation grants to CISPES and William Kunstler." Hunt stormed, "No, that is the far-right American Spectator kind of neo-facist hit nonsense."

Regardless of the 'breakup' of the USSR and recent renaming of the KGB, the chart above expresses both past and present realities.

³⁶⁰ Mathews, op. cit. pp. 30 & 34. Emphasis added.

After Rush Limbaugh raked Hunt over the coals for that sophomoric name-calling spree, a humbled and much smarter Al Hunt scraped out an apology, offering that, "It would be outrageous for me or anyone else to smear [The American Spectator] with that pejorative label."³⁶¹

Regardless how uneasy the truth makes persons such as Al Hunt feel, Hillary Clinton's political activities are as relevant as the political activities of any first lady. If Eleanor Roosevelt had channeled money to Hitler or Hirohito's supporters, that would have been relevant. If Bess Truman had directed monies to North Korea's advocates, that would have been relevant. If Jackie Kennedy had aided Castro or if 'Lady Bird' Johnson had supported the Viet Cong, those actions would have been relevant; as would news of Barbara Bush funding Sadam Hussein's forces.

Likewise, Hillary's support for pro-Marxists in America and for communist insurgents in Central America are just as relevant! Especially in light of the Clinton campaign rhetoric that he and Hillary would be somewhat of a husband-and-wife Presidential team. As Hillary declared at the New York Convention, "With me you are getting two for the price of one. . . . Vote for him and you will have me also."³⁶²

Asked which writers influenced her political thinking, Hillary responded: "I was fascinated by Aldous Huxley" [Brave New World] and George Orwell" [1984].³⁶³

Communist Party USA Cheers Clinton's Election

Following Clinton's 1992 election, the People's Weekly World (official newspaper of the Communist Party USA) grew ebullient with new hope for their cause and bubbled over with praises for the President they had helped elect:

NEW YORK--Leaders of the Communist Party, USA, meeting here Nov. 7-9, hailed the defeat of President Bush and the dramatic gains... in the 1992 elections.

'It is a big chance to reverse 12 years of right-wing rule from the White House,' said

Jarvis Tyner, CPUSA Political Action Director in his opening report to the three day meeting of the Party's National Board. 'The election of Clinton-Gore has created a new battleground on which to struggle. . . . This was not a victory of the Bubbu vote. It was not a turn to the right, but a rejection of the right.'

Greeted with enthusiasm were the speeches by several candidates who ran [locally or in the States] on the Communist Party . . . line. They reported on the friendliness of crowds at [Democrat] candidates' forums, and a dramatic increase in their endorsements by mass organizations. Many doubled their vote compared with earlier campaigns. Denise Winebrenner Edwards, who ran for Congress in Pittsburgh, spoke of the cordial relations with women's organizations, unions and progressive elements in the Democratic Party. . . .

Communist Party boss Gus Hall praised Clinton's election as a sign that communism is on the rise, and American capitalism is on the decline.

CPUSA National Chairman Gus Hall told the meeting that the [Clinton-Gore] election revealed important new thought patterns. . . . Voters displayed a growing awareness that capitalism cannot reverse its decline.

. . . The Board adopted a Plan of Work focusing on a number of campaigns to demand that the administration in Congress enact legislation to create a public work jobs program...[and] national health care. . . .

Local grassroots movements should be urged to run candidates in the 1993 municipal elections, including members of the Communist Party, USA, as part of the movement to establish a new party of working people.

The plan cites the suppression of the Los Angeles rebellion and calls on the CPUSA to step up the fight for . . . Unity.³⁶⁴

Soviet Influence of U.S. Presidential Elections. It may surprise readers that there is quantifiable evidence that Soviet and American communists have worked for years to defeat George Bush and to elect a president who would be supportive of Marxism.

In 1988 W. Raymond Wannall (former Assistant Director of FBI Intelligence), Robert Morris (former Chief Counsel U.S. Senate Internal Security Subcommittee) and other prominent Americans gathered at the Dirksen Senate Office Building in Washington to represent the National Committee to Restore Internal Security. Reading an FBI report on Soviet Active Measures before that assembly, Morris quoted the FBI as having revealed:

Soviet intelligence officers have already started to collect information on the 1988 presidential candidates and their positions on issues. It is possible that the Soviet Union will institute a new series of active measures operations designed to discredit those candidates who have platforms that are not acceptable to the Soviet Government.³⁶⁵

Commenting on Morris' quote, Dr. Busiek (Student of Communist Directives) observed:

That is, of course, a major operation of the communist movement within this country, and operates, of course, with the approval and direction of the Soviet Union. The Soviets would like nothing better than to see a useful idiot in the office of the President of the United States with their people guiding his thoughts, his actions, and his decisions.³⁶⁶

Dr. Busiek then produced a body of evidence collected from U.S. and Soviet communist sources showing that it was the expressed intent of the communists to directly influence future presidential elections so as to soon seat a candidate in the White House who would be sympathetic to Marxist ideals.

"The Soviets would like nothing better than to see a useful idiot in the office of the President of the United States with their people guiding his thoughts, his actions, and his decisions."

--Dr. Paul Busiek

Dr. Busiek's evidence included excerpts from the CPUSA's newspaper, People's Daily World, wherein Party boss Gus Hall (previously quoted praising the election of Clinton) vowed, "I think our members [of the Communist Party] will work for the candidates that they think have the most progressive, most advanced positions.”³⁶⁷

Chairman Morris also stated that the FBI report revealed that the communists were, “...Increasingly intervening in connection with shaping not only the selection of candidates, but also the complexion of the next Congress.”³⁶⁸ Dr. Busiek elaborates:

. . . Well, they [Moscow and the Communist Party USA] hope to have a Democratic Presidential nominee. . . . In the Hall article there was optimism that this will come about. However, one would need to read the Communist press regularly to appreciate how deeply the Leninists have penetrated our electoral process. . . .³⁶⁹

Yet another example of direct communist influence on the Presidential election process comes from the People's Daily World, the most influential publication of the Communist Party. Just prior to Clinton's election, that organization officially came out against George Bush and directly for Clinton, with headlines blaring, “CPUSA Puts Top Priority on Defeating Bush.”

The accompanying story revealed that the National Committee and National Council of the Communist Party were elated that Bush appeared to be losing the campaign. Party boss Gus Hall and others there expressed hope that under a Clinton administration, “A broad based Tax the Rich” coalition would manifest itself so the rich would be forced to, “Pay their fair share of taxes.” [Author's note: This is the same exact jargon that Bill Clinton has parroted]. The following insert also appeared with the above article, urging American communists to contact Bill Clinton--their candidate of choice:

Call Clinton

That's the toll free number of the Clinton/Gore National Campaign Headquarters. Give them a ring between 8:30 am-10:00 pm Central Daylight Time, if you have questions about the candidate's position or want to register your views on questions. More Communists Support Clinton. The above occurrences are not isolated incidents by any means. Indeed, American communists from coast to coast have swung behind the Clinton program. In fact, U.S. communists were so cheered by Clinton's agenda, that they circulated this flyer:

Emergency Rally!

equality ✓

Not only are America's communists singing hosannas to Clinton, but foreign communists too; for no sooner had Bill recovered from the titillating excitement of the Gay & Lesbian inaugural ball that was thrown in Washington, D.C. in his honor, than he accepted a congratulatory phone call from one of the world's most famous remaining communists, Nelson Mandela:

On the second day of Clinton's presidency, he accepted an overseas phone call from none other than Communist Nelson Mandela. . . .³⁷¹

Avowed communist Mandela and seven others were sentenced in 1964 to life imprisonment for sabotage and conspiracy to violently overthrow the South African government. These terrorists were convicted of having 105 plans to sabotage police stations, power stations . . . and homes of black policemen. Their arsenal: 210,000 hand grenades, 48,000 land mines, 50 tons of explosives.

³⁷¹ Provan, op. cit., May 1993, p. 5.

Explaining why he had chosen such a violent approach, Mandela said he was 'influenced by Marxist thought.' In a court document, he wrote, 'The enemy must be completely crushed . . . before a communist world can be realized.'³⁷²

According to one mainstream newspaper, Clinton has evidently been influenced by the specific brand of communism known as "communitarianism." A "communitarian" is defined in the dictionary as, "a member or advocate of a communistic or communalistic community."³⁷³ The complimentary newspaper article which analyzed Clinton's communitarianism, revealed:

'He has communitarian bones in his body,' said [CFR member] Amitai Etzioni, a professor of American studies at George Washington University and the guru of communitarianism.³⁷⁴

The article continued by outlining how Clinton's policy speeches bore strong parallels to communitarian tenets. The article also revealed that CFR member Henry Cisneros (Clinton's Secretary of Housing and Urban Development) is a member of the Communitarian Network group; and that Clinton's speech writer and Deputy Assistant for Domestic Policy, William Galston, is a founding member of the Communitarian movement.

Just as Shearer follows Italian communist Gramsci and Pat Schroeder hosted Italian communist Pasti, Bill traveled to Italy's Marxist communes to enjoy Marxist living and to learn collectivism from experts there. He now reveals their doctrines will "absolutely" be instituted in the U.S.

Bill and Hillary Clinton Both Trained By Communist Experts

Adolph Hitler; or if their wives were found to have supported the Gestapo during World War II? Reagan and Bush have no such skeletons in their closets, but Bill and Hillary Clinton do!

At the 1992 Democratic Convention, reports Floyd G. Brown . . . Governor Clinton was interviewed by Italian journalist Antonio Soggi. The resulting article appeared in the Italian news weekly Il Sabato under the title, "Comrade Bill." Soggi reports that in 1987 Governor Clinton visited the communist co-op of Legga, Italy to study the communist economic model: 'I went to Italy to study,' Governor Clinton told Soggi. 'I came five years ago to the province of Florence to find out how the cooperatives . . . and the micro enterprises function. Then I went back to Arkansas and I helped put together about seventy youth cooperatives.' Don't tell me this [communist model] is your economic prescription for the [United] States?' Mr. Soggi asked incredulously. 'Absolutely,' said Governor Clinton.³⁷⁵

Soggi later questioned members of the Italian Communist Party regarding their dealings with Clinton. One Party member disclosed to Soggi that while introducing Clinton to numerous communists, that he had been careful to warn Clinton that such associations could compromise Clinton's political aspirations back in the U.S. Clinton reportedly reassured him, "No problem, no problem."³⁷⁶

Interestingly, Clinton's pilgrimage to the Marxist communes in Italy transpired after Derek Shearer praised those same communes in his book, Economic Democracy. It remains to be seen if the American people agree with Bill Clinton that such activities pose, "no problem." Hillary Clinton was trained under the auspices of at least one famed veteran communist too:

Hillary Clinton, the first woman-to-be, once worked as a law clerk in the Oakland office of the noted left-wing lawyer, Robert Treuhart, husband of Jessica (Decca) Mitford. Happened back in 1971, when the then Hillary Rodham was a law student looking for a summer job in a 'movement' law firm (draft resisters, civil rights, etc.). . .

*'That was the time we were representing the Black Panthers,' recalls Treuhaft, 'and she worked on that case. Some people think she went to Sacramento with them--remember when they disrupted the legislature? But I'm not sure whether she did or not. Anyway, it was nice to have her around.'*³⁷⁷

Treuhaft, who trained and praised Hillary--and Treuhaft's wife Jessica (Decca) Mitford--were identified in U.S. Government investigations as one-time Communist Party members.³⁷⁸

Majority of Americans Do Not Want Mr. Clinton to be President

Regardless of the state of jubilee the communists are in over Clinton's election, most Americans do not want Mr. Clinton as their President. Many people still question how such an event could have transpired. As one newspaper panned, *"Michael Dukakis got 46 percent of the popular vote in 1988 and lost. Bill Clinton got 43 percent . . . and won. How?"*³⁷⁹ Even at the height of Clinton's popularity (the 1992 election) scores of millions of Americans harbored serious doubts about Clinton's character and agenda. Exit polls of (national) voters on November 3 revealed:

Clinton's mandate may be more tenuous than it appears half of voters questioned in exit surveys said they were 'scared' or 'concerned' about the prospect of a Clinton presidency.³⁸⁰

There were other sobering signs for Clinton in Tuesday's victory half the public thinks Clinton has lied about his draft record, according to network exit polls.³⁸¹

³⁸⁰ Carl Cannon, The Wichita Eagle, November 4, 1992, p. 1.

³⁸¹ Charles Green and Robert A. Rankin, The Wichita Eagle, November 5, 1992, p. 7A.

Likewise, analysis of the popular vote shows that most voters do not want Clinton in the White House:

Said presidential historian George Edwards of Texas A&M. . . . 'There's not a lot of evidence of overwhelming support of Bill Clinton'. . . .³⁸²

In 1992, Bill Clinton received 43 percent of the popular vote, and George Bush and Ross Perot received 38 percent and 19 percent respectively.³⁸³ This means that at least 57 percent of the voters did not want Mr. Clinton elected. But more profound is the revelation that over a third of those who voted for Clinton or Bush actually preferred Perot!

Finally, 35 percent of voters surveyed said they would have voted for Ross Perot if they thought he could have won. . . .³⁸⁴

So Clinton's claim to 43 percent popular support is misleading. Prorating the estimated number of actual Perot supporters who threw their votes to Clinton because they didn't think Perot had a chance reveals that as few as 28 percent of voters may have truly wanted Clinton to win, and 72 percent wanted Clinton to lose. Hardly the "ClintonMandate" the media has so feverishly tried to confabulate!

How Did This Happen? It is no secret that Mr. Clinton gained the White House because America grew confused and demoralized about what had been an otherwise popular Bush administration; and in their confused and demoralized state (exacerbated by the media's propaganda and disinformation orgies) the people chose a President who in times of clearer thinking they would not have. Regarding the predilection of peoples to stumble in such times, Dr. Powell observes:

In a free society fringe groups and extreme ideologies of all sorts can and do appear, and democracy has sufficient power of assimilation to withstand most contradictions and absurdities. And in times of fundamental faith, an organization like IPS--which openly states that its goal is the dismantling of all economic, political, social, and cultural institutions in the United States--would hardly be taken seriously, let alone have any influence on the country's domestic and foreign policies. In the end, the story told here [about IPS] may reveal as much about the leadership and judgment of the elites in the United States as about the [IPS] itself.³⁸⁵

Grounds Exist to Eject Clinton and His Cohorts From Office

We had "Watergate," "Billygate," "Irangate," "Contragate" and "Iraqgate." Congress' check kiting scam was referred to as "Rubbergate." Now, a new and much more serious scandal faces the Republic: "Gramscigate!" Gramscigate refers to the Clinton's strong affiliations with IPS and IPS personnel who are evidently working to Marxify America according to the methodologies of communist leader Gramsci.

When Michael Dukakis admitted during the 1988 campaign that he was a, "card carrying member of the ACLU," George Bush used that admission of liberal activism to castigate Dukakis. When George Bush promoted the Constitutionally-sound National Rifle Association, domestic disarmament extremists huffed against what they felt was an insensitive act from a President who had promised to be, "kinder, gentler." If affiliation with those organizations can be judged by some to be controversial--then funding, praising, collaborating with, recruiting from and formulating the Nation's future according to the nostrums of a subversive, anti-American hate group such as IPS is immeasurably more controversial!

Accordingly, grounds exist to initiate legal actions designed to eject the Clintonista regime from Washington. The means to do this reside with the readers of SECRET. Readers should: (1) Demand that the FBI reinvestigate the backgrounds of Clinton and his appointees, looking for IPS links. (2) Demand that Congress initiate impeachment proceedings against Bill Clinton and inquiries into the suitability and loyalty of his appointees. (3) Failing the previous options--mercilessly vote Mr. Clinton out of office in 1996!

Regarding the FBI factor, the backgrounds of presidential appointees must be checked before their appointments are approved:

They will be checked out by the FBI, interviewed extensively. . . . Then they'll have to be confirmed by the Senate.³⁸⁶

In lieu of the evidence presented, new investigations need be launched by the FBI to remove Clinton's Marxist/IPS operatives from positions of governmental authority. The FBI should be very accommodating toward citizens demanding such, as the following quotation reveals:

All persons named as officers or leaders of the Institute for Policy Studies, mentioned herein, are being investigated to determine their informant potential or for inclusion on the Security Index.³⁸⁷

A full accounting is due the people of this Nation to quantify the chronology, degree, intent, and consequences of the Clinton's fundings of and collaboration with IPS, IPS personnel, and related Marxist-terrorist hate groups.

Serious inquiry must be made into the Presidential suitability of a man who maintains a "Eurocommunist" promoter as a close friend and advisor and who sees "no problem" with living with and implementing the ideas of famed Marxists. And serious inquiry must be made regarding whether or not this Nation wants a first lady who has strong ties to communist insurgents and anti-American extremists worldwide.

These new investigations should not focus on subjective hearsay, but on the rule of law and on the objective standards of investigation and evidence which are applied to all applicants seeking positions of special trust and authority within governmental service.

In addition to the raw facts about Clinton's relationship to IPS, the following related grounds also beg for the removal of the Clinton regime .

National Security Agency Grounds For Ejection. Among other duties, the NSA reviews the background of military personnel and civilians who work in government or defense. An NSA questionnaire verifies suspicions that Bill and Hillary might be in trouble today if they were to even apply for janitorial work near an Army base. The form asks for full explanations of not only the applicant's association with known communist elements, but if the applicant has had any affiliation:

. . . With any organization, association, movement, group, or combination of persons [which] advocate the violent alteration or overthrow of the U.S., which approve of political] violence, coercion, or intimidation, [or] advocates or engages in the disruption or halting of U.S. government activities through force, violence, or infiltration of the government service.³⁸⁸

IPS definitely has been involved in many of the above listed activities, as the following excerpts from Confidential and Secret FBI files attest:

. . . [IPS was involved in] the theft and unauthorized disclosure of 'Top Secret' United States Department of Defense documents. . . .³⁸⁹

The Institute for Policy Studies . . . is now engaged in . . . 'A proposal for the Formation of Liberation Collectives and Brigades for the Disruption/Liberation of Washington.' It is a call for all out sabotage of government, beginning at the Potomac. . . . IPS urges brigades . . . to descend on Washington...and force closure of agencies. . . . blocking highways and bridges to the Pentagon and CIA buildings . . . stopping armed forces conscription and enlistment. . . .³⁹⁰

IPS leaders . . . support . . . disruptive demonstrations and advocacy of abolition of the FBI, Secret Service, other Government intelligence agencies and the military.³⁹¹

Considering these facts, could the reader imagine either of the Clintons passing this government background investigation today?

Corporate Grounds For Ejection. Bill and Hillary Clinton might now have trouble finding work today in the private sector too. Background check forms for one large corporation the author checked with not only asked applicants if they have ever held membership in a "Communist organization," but even demanded:

Are you now or have you ever been affiliated with any organization, association, movement, group, or combination of persons which:

(1) Advocates the overthrow of our constitutional government?

³⁸⁸ National Agency Questionnaire NAVCRUIT 1133/45 [6-90], page 8-1-122C.

(2) Advocates or approves the commission of acts of force, violence, coercion or intimidation?

(3) Seeks to alter the form of government of the United States by force, violence, or other unconstitutional means?

Indeed, the Company Rules of one large Fortune 500 firm the author queried reveals that employees may be fired for engaging in any "un-American activities." That company (and probably thousands of others which deal with organized labor or government contracts) generally define un-American activities as:

Being a member of, or supporting by word, action or association any organization that advocates the overthrow of the United States Government by force or by any illegal or unconstitutional methods. Violation of provisions of the espionage laws or regulations of the United States or any agency thereof.

Clearly, a person who funds or affiliates with a sinister organization such as IPS would not be considered fit to be hired by many U.S. companies. Should such a person be considered qualified to serve as President--or as first lady?

The Clinton's associations with and fundings of the Marxist-terrorist IPS would be equivalent to Reagan or Bush associating with Nazis, or their wives donating monies to right-wing death squads in Central America.

Constitutional Grounds For Ejection. As of this writing, the U.S. Constitution was considered by many to still be in effect, and to still be the supreme law of the land. Article III, Section 3, of the United States Constitution states:

Treason against the United States shall consist only in levying war against them, or in adhering to their enemies, giving them aid and comfort.

Evidence exists that IPS has fulfilled the above requirements. Additional legal findings shed more light on such offenses. Corpus Juris Secundum 16: Constitutional Law has much to say about groups (such as IPS) which masquerade behind their tax-exempt status, not really serving the public good:

213 (10): The Constitutional guaranty of freedom of speech does not include the right to advocate, or conspire to effect, the violent destruction or overthrow of the government or the criminal destruction of property.

(214): The Constitutional guaranty of the right of assembly was never intended as a license for illegality or invitation for fraud--the right of freedom of assembly may be abused by using assembly to incite violence and crime, and the people through their legislatures may protect themselves against the abuse.³⁹²

In addition to treason and tax fraud, persons involved with organizations which seek to abolish the present political and social systems of the United States may possibly be prosecuted for criminal syndicalism too. Corpus Juris Secundum 46: Constitutional Law reveals the illegality of:

Sabotage and syndicalism aiming to abolish the present political and social system, including direct action or sabotage (Insurrection and Sedition: Sec. 461c).³⁹³

Yes, Constitutional and other legal questions exist regarding whether or not Mr. and Mrs. Clinton have collaborated with those who oppose our Constitution, or who have warded against the United States, or adhered to our enemies; or assisted those who have given aid and comfort to our enemies--even old enemies.

Congressional Grounds For Ejection. In 1799 Congress passed the Logan Act to prohibit direct relations between private citizens and foreign governments in order to protect U.S. foreign policy from unaccountable manipulators. In 1948 Congress reaffirmed the Act, claiming it illegal for:

Any citizen of the United States, wherever he may be, who, without authority of the United States, directly or indirectly commences or carries on any correspondence or intercourse with any foreign government or any officer or agent thereof, with intent to influence the measures or conduct of any foreign government or of any disputes or controversies with the United States, or to defeat the measures of the United States³⁹⁴

Regarding the possibility of IPS activists violating the Logan Act, one political scientist wrote:

Do IPS fellows violate the Logan Act? The evidence presented . . . indicates that IPS and its affiliates do indeed carry on intercourse with foreign parties and governments against the interests of the United States. IPS has worked and continues to work with foreign powers hostile to the United States, and with the explicit purpose of influencing debate in Congress. It has attempted to influence foreign governments to the detriment of the United States and to 'defeat the measures of the United States.'³⁹⁵

In supporting IPS and CISPES, did Hillary help Logan Act violators? Is Bill utilizing Logan Act violators who now intend to use foreign policy as a tool to hammer out radical changes worldwide?

Readers will be pleased to learn that their demands to Congress regarding this scandal are already being heard, as the following letter which was recently faxed to Sunset Research Group attests:

We [U.S. Senate] respectfully request a copy of the unpublished study, conducted by the office of counterintelligence at the CIA in 1989 regarding . . . the Institute for Policy Studies. . . . The contents of this study are directly relevant to . . . this Committee in reviewing the qualifications of a [Clinton] nominee. . . . Please provide the report in an unclassified or redacted form as well as in its original classified form.³⁹⁶

Perjurious Grounds For Ejection. As Governor of Arkansas and as President of the United States, Mr. Clinton was sworn to uphold the U.S. Constitution. His Presidential oath included these words:

³⁹⁴ There have been a number of important judicial references to the Logan Act including United States v. Bryan (1947), United States v. Peace Information Center (1951), Martin v. Young (1955), Briehl v. Dulles (1957), and United States v. Elliot (1967).

³⁹⁶ Letter from Senators Jesse Helms and Hank Brown, U.S. Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, to CIA Director R. James Woolsey, March 7, 1994. Purportedly regarding appointment of Derek Shearer as Ambassador to Finland.

I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully execute the Office of President of the United States, and will to the best of my ability, preserve, protect and defend the Constitution of the United States.

If it is found that Mr. Clinton knew of IPS through his buddy Derek Shearer or others, yet winked at IPS's subversive communist-terrorist activities and anti-American agenda, or if it is found that Mr. Clinton chose to ignore his wife's open support for Marxist insurgents abroad and anti-American extremists at home, or that the Clintons failed to disclose their radical affiliations during their background interviews, then serious inquiry must be made into Mr. Clinton's character and into the possibility that Mr. Clinton may have perjured himself while taking the aforementioned oaths.

Ultimately, the Clinton Presidency will benefit America; proving once and for all that Marxist economics are disastrous, that centralized planning and punitive taxation are counter productive, that leftist radicals are still dangerous, and that character does indeed matter.

Shearer's powerful half-brother, Strobe Talbott, is on record for rescuing Clinton's campaign when it was on the ropes--and Shearer and his subversive IPS are on record conspiring to elect a radical President--was Clinton part of that scheme? Such findings could place Mr. Clinton even more firmly in the IPS camp, and raise the specter of even questioning Clinton's political allegiance and loyalty. It is not known if such postulations are actuarial--that is why new investigations are needed now.

Mr. Clinton Should Leave the White House

Tens of thousands of copies of SECRET are now in circulation and will inevitably have some effect on the collective national conscience. When Mr. Clinton learns that the public and the guardians of the public trust know of his corrupt affiliations, he would be acting honorably to confess his situation and resign from the Presidency. Bill Clinton should realize that what little trust and hope America might have held for him has now been dashed completely.

While some Americans voted for Mr. Clinton, and while all Americans honor the Presidential office he now holds, such civilities must not take away from the fact that Mr. & Mrs. Clinton have quite possibly been compromised by hostile forces and could thus pose a grave threat to the security of the United States of America. Such a man should never hold the Presidency.

It does not matter if Mr. and Mrs. Clinton are found entirely innocent in the Gramscigate scandal--having somehow managed to ignorantly bumble again and again into association with this vast collection of malcontents. What does matter is that even if found innocent of wrong doing in these affiliations, these affiliations are nonetheless factual; meaning Bill Clinton should not be entrusted with the power of the Presidency!

It does not take much of an anomaly for other government employees to get a security clearance denied or a career path blocked. Maybe a bankruptcy, maybe a relative in the wrong country or a friendship with the wrong person. Requirements are strict and unyielding, and the Clintons should not receive preferential treatment over other citizens who aspire to careers in government service.

The people of the United States cannot risk placing nuclear war actuation mechanisms, billions of dollars in tax revenues and the lives and futures of their sons and daughters in the hands of a man who--in any way--has had close and complementary contact with extremist elements!

The Clintons should acknowledge that these revelations of their Marxist-terrorist affiliations have forever alienated them from the hearts of America's most productive and patriotic citizens. Mr. Clinton should concede that the best thing he can now do for this country is to gracefully resign; and if he does not resign, he should be impeached; and if he is not impeached, the American people have the right, and the duty, to vote him out of office in 1996.

Also Available From Sunset Research Group

Of all the materials which have been written about the secretive and elitist group, The Council on Foreign Relations (CFR), none have included incriminating information on that group which was gathered by U.S. government investigators--until now!

WARNING! is just such a resource--finally breaking open and analyzing the FBI's files on the highly controversial CFR group. Unseen until now but by a handful of trusted agents, WARNING! now exposes and reprints these explosive files for the benefit of the general public.

Here at last is the untold story of the CFR being investigated by the FBI for Nazi espionage, communist association, and domestic subversion.

But the story does not have a happy ending--here also are the frightening accounts of strange deaths and sudden firings of high government officials--such as JFK, J. Edgar Hoover, and Patrick Gray III--who dared oppose the CFR!

This documentary of intrigue, subterfuge, power politics, scandal and cover up is more than just a thriller for adventurous readers; and more than a valued documentary for scholars. This booklet provides all Americans with a very timely WARNING! 1 for $5; 3 for $10; 5-20 $2.50 each; 21-49 $2.00 each; 50-249 $1.50 each; 250-999 $1 each. 1000+ 75 cents each.

Unlike our other serious publications, THE BILL CLINTON JOKE BOOK is as whimsical & silly as, well, as the thought of Bill Clinton joining the Marines or being faithful to Hillary and the Constitution!

This timely collection of politically incorrect wisecracks and waggish quips aimed at our Fearless Leader withers poor 'Slick Willie' in a barrage of rapid-fire repartee.

With cartoons, breezy one-liners, reflective epigrams, good old fashioned American cynicism and dead pan humor, we sizzle Comrade Bill and company while mercilessly lampooning their absurd policies, idiotic gaffes and bizarre idiosyncracies. Go ahead and halloo yourself silly with these firecracker flip-quickies aimed at our current Chief Affliction and his merry band of wierdos. But beware: our aciduous wit and wisdom is contagious!

SECRET

FBI Documents Link Bill & Hillary Clinton to Marxist-Terrorist Network

Revealed here are the shocking details of Bill and Hillary's associations with the Institute for Policy Studies (IPS)--a Marxist-terrorist group long under FBI investigation for murder, treason and espionage.

Itemized here is the Clinton's long history of IPS collaboration; starting with Hillary's radical activities at Yale and Bill's days as a draft-dodging hippy leader--when he accepted a special overseas assignment from IPS to carry out the will of North Vietnamese and top Soviet officials! And today, those associations continue, with top IPS operatives being ushered into the highest echelons of the U.S. government and Clinton cabinet!

Also exposed is how Hillary funded and praised IPS and how Bill chose a close friend from IPS to serve him as a chief advisor; a friend who openly espouses Marxist doctrines and who in 1980 wrote of a plan to elect a President who would promote Socialism in America. A President like his best friend, Bill Clinton!

This book also reveals how Bill lived with European Marxists and admits adopting their beliefs, how Hillary was trained by a veteran communist, and that the U.S. and USSR Communist Parties worked diligently to help elect Bill Clinton to the Presidency.

Written by an ex-Intelligence officer, SECRET exposes this scandal with surgical precision and challenges readers to join in a coordinated and devastating plan of action which is already grinding the "Clintonista" regime into the ground!
